ARBITRARY LEVY
ON STOCK PROFITS TO BE SERVED ON SENATOR COUZENS

Assessment Will Be Withheld Till Tomorrow So He Can Have Chance to Sign Waiver.

ACTION BASED ON A PRIVATE NOTE

Mellon Says Law Does Not Permit Him to Make Amount of the Assessment Public.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 12.—The Treasury has prepared for delivery to Senator Couzens of Michigan tomorrow a notice of an arbitrary assessment on profits allocated to have been made by him
in the sale of his minority holdings of stock in the Ford Motor Co. in 1917.

While the computation of the assessment is practically complete, it is the intention of the Treasury to withhold it for one day to give the Michigan Senator, who is chairman of the special committee investigating the Internal Revenue Bureau, an opportunity to sign a waiver of the statute of limitations
if he so desires.

The Treasury sent to the Senator
Monday a copy of a memorandum from a private source outside of the Treasury purporting to show that profits he had made on the sale of the stock to Henry Ford that had been under $100,000 and that $1,000,000 was due the Treasury.

Very Late To Be Public.
Senator Couzens declared in the Senate an attempt was being made to "discipline" him for his activities in investigating affairs of the Revenue Bureau.

The statute of limitations, which the Senate Committee has declined to run from tomorrow and the Treasury declared it was faced with obtaining a waiver or the applying of an assessment, made arbitrarily from its records. Secretary Mellon said the Treasury is included by law from making public the amount of the arbitrary levy, adding that there had been intention to give publicity to the case.

Amortization Questioned.

The Internal Revenue Bureau, in collecting war and post-war corporation taxes, has allowed $564, 000 in amortization claims under principles questioned by the Senate Committee, on the basis of testimony by bureau officials.

Similar claims that are still pending as set forth in this testimony,
amount to approximately $300, 000.

Through L. H. Manson, counsel for the committee, and mining men, with the aid of the bureau, Mellon the committee undertook detailed investigation of several of the allowed claims, most of them arising out of war-time operations of industrial companies, Barnes-White Coal Mining
in Pennsylvania, furnished the claim brought in this category.

L. W. Swann, an engineer for the company, who made a study of the Barnes-White claim when it was initially advanced, agreed that he reported the plant to be in use in 1922 to the extent of 70 per cent of its capacity. His superiors in a bureau adjustment allowed the corporation to claim deduction on the theory that it only was 52.5 per cent in use, he declared.

Steel Claim Largest.
The largest of the amortization claims pending, Manson reported to the committee, affects the United States Steel Corporation.

The amount claimed is $75,492,
000. He told the committee that while the case was yet unad-judicated, the engineering estimates had been approved in the bureau.

Amortization allowed by the bureau (tax) was $55,063,312.
The committee considered propositions for the year 1924 and 1925.
The difference in tax $20,428,688.

justments suspended. The American

HUSBAND GETS A PERMANENT WAVE,
WIFE A DIVORCE

Bellevue Woman's Complaint Includes Charge of Drinking to Excess.

The poet's query, "What are the wild waves saying?" was permanently answered for Mrs. Irma A.
Brecht Semrau yesterday afternoon in the Bellevue circuit court when she was granted a divorce from her husband, John, after telling the judge that her spouse had his hair permanently waved. She also charged he drank to excess.

"Well, getting a permanent crimp is all right for a woman or a girl, but when a man does it,
there is some question as to his sobriety and I will grant the degree," remarked Judge Crow after hearing Mrs. Semrau's testimony.

John Semrau, having waived appearance, was not present at the hearing.

SEVERE DRY LAW PENALTIES
FOR 2 MORE ALIEN VIOLATORS

Judge Davis Imposes $1000 Fines
and Jail and Prison Sentences on Still Owners.

The policy of severe penalties for alien violators of liquor laws, announced last week by Federal Judge Davis, was exemplified again
today when he fined Dominico Finocchio $1000 and sentenced him to a year in Federal penitentiary, later assessing $140 fine against Floyd Bush, saloonkeeper at 2231
Olive street, and a $1000 fine, served on execution, with a six-months jail sentence, on Ernest Mueller.

Mueller's offense was operating an illicit still, as was Finocchio's.
Three stills were found on his farm near Eureka. Bush admitted possession of 96 bottles of beer, eight gallons of whisky and 15 quarts of "gin" which were found in his saloon. Their attorney, Frank Slater, advanced in extenuation that Bush
was trying to quit the saloon business and Mueller was a former wife maker whose way of earning a living was made a crime by prohibition. Finocchio admitted he was not naturalized and spoke through an interpreter.

JOSEPH LEITER INDICTED

Liquor Charges Based on Store in County Home.

BOSTON, March 12.—The Federal grand jury returned indictments against Joseph Leiter, of Chicago, and three employees at his summer home at Beverly charging smuggling of liquor, facilitating the transportation and concealment of liquor and illegal possession.

In December a report was circulated that robbers had broken into the Leiter summer home and stolen a large quantity of liquor from the wine cellar. Federal officers then made an investigation and seized liquors stored in a vault.

BANK ACCOUNT OF FALL OFFERED IN TEAPOT OIL SUIT

Government Seeks to Prove Former Secretary Used
$90,000 in Liberty Bonds
That Came From Sinclair

BANKERS ON STAND
AS U. S. WITNESSES

Deposition of Roosevelt Says He Knew Nothing of Leases Until Public Announcement.

By the Associated Press.
CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 12.— Liberty bonds alleged to have passed between Harry F. Sinclair and Albert B. Fall, nominal lessor and lessee, respectively, of Teapot Dome Naval Oil Reserve, were theoretically started on a backward journey by the Government today in the trial of the lease annul-

Calling witnesses from banks in El Paso, Tex.; Carrizozo, N. M., and Pueblo, Colo., in addition to
H. V. Spillman of Washington,
Register of the Treasury, Government counsel offered skele-tonized testimony on which Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy reserved ruling as to its admissibility.

Involved $90,000 in Liberty bonds, Gwen J. Roberts of the attorneys for the plaintiff, declared to the court that he would provide later that there was a connection between Sinclair and Fall and the bonds and that Fall received the securities from an agent of Sinclair
and that Fall used the coupons.

Beginning at El Paso, where Fall
had an account at the First National Bank, the Government met-aphorically whisked the securities to Carrizozo, Pueblo, Denver and Washington.

Admissibility Attacked.
The question as to the admissibility of testimony regarding Fall's bank account was raised when J.
W. Lacey of defense counsel objected to the El Paso bank records
on the ground that they had no bearing on anyone involved in the defense. He cited dozens of rulings where such records had been excluded from courts. However, when Judge Kennedy announced
he would reserve ruling on their admissibility, Roberts proceeded with identification of bank records and Liberty bond coupons.

L. C. Dunbar, cashier of the El Paso bank, was the first witness.
He possessed records of Fall's account from Dec. 22, 1919, to April 28, 1924. Here Lacey plunged into his long objection.

"Testimony will be offered," said
Roberts, after Lacey had finished.
"Showing where there has been an alleged conspiracy." Then amid repeated objections by defense counsel, J. E. Gonzalez of the El Paso Bank identified bond numbers
as they had been deposited by the Tres Rio Land and Cattle Co. of New Mexico, said to be a concern in which Fall is interested. Bond deposits also were traced to the First National Bank of Pueblo
through the testimony of Harlan J. Smith, its cashier.

Identifies Canceled Coupons.
Spillman identified canceled bond
coupons received by the Treasury Department from the Federal Reserve Bank of Denver. An attempt will be made to show that the bonds were involved in the El Paso-Mexico oil case and Carrizozo to Pueblo and Denver, prosecution counsel said.

Depositional testimony of Theodore Roosevelt, former Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and the introduction by the Government of a mass of letters and telegrams intended to keep secret the fact that he had leased the Teapot Dome reserve to the Mammoth Oil Co. made his way into the records yesterday.

Outstanding in Roosevelt's testimony was his statement that he existed on a modification of the executive order drafted for signature
by President Harding transferring the Teapot Dome reserve from the navy to the Interior Department, in which the navy would have the "final say" in administrative affairs connected with the reserve.

Denby Approved Revised Drafts.
After receiving the original draft of the order, Roosevelt averred, he conferred with Rear Admiral Griffin and others in the Navy Department, some of whom suggested changes; that various revised drafts were then made and submitted to Edwin Denby, then Secretary of the Navy. "If you get Fall to agree to the modification I will agree,"

Roosevelt quoted Denby as saying.
Both Secretaries agreed, the deposition said, the document was

REALTY MAN HELD
WHEN WOMAN DIES
AFTER A DRINK

R. M. Turner of Atchison Charged With Murder of Mrs. Dora Gage, 48, to Get $7000 Insurance.

POISON FOUND IN DIVORCEE'S STOMACH

Woman Before Death Said
Former Kansas Football Player Told Her Bottle Contained Corn Whisky.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, March 12.—A first degree murder charge was filed today against Roy M. Turner, 25 years old, of Atchison, Kan., in connection with the death here yesterday of Mrs. Dora Gage, 48, divorcee of Atchison, who in a dying statement charged that Turner had poisoned her. Turner was arrested and held without bond.

Mrs. Gage was found in a room with Turner at a downtown hotel yesterday by attendants who were attracted by her screams. She told the police that Turner had given her a drink from a bottle,
which he later dashed to the pavement through a window.

Poison Found in Stomach.
Poison was found in the stomach
of the dead woman in sufficient quantities to cause death, Dr. C. S.
Nelson, a Deputy Coroner said, in a sworn statement. The statement added that no trace of alcohol was found, thus contradicting Turner's story told to the police. Turner stated that he and Mrs. Gage drank from a bottle of corn whisky. The Deputy Coroner's report said that later in the day appeared on the woman's left thigh.

Turner Silent in Jail.
Turner, who is held in the city jail, persisted in his refusal to discuss the affair. Likewise, he would say anything in defense, whereby he is alleged to have sold his equity in a 160-acre farm near Nevada, Mo., to Mrs. Gage.
Police said he also refused to talk about the drowning of his wife in the Cottonwood River near Emporia, Kan., Jan. 4, 1923. He and his wife were in a canoe when it capsized.

Records being investigated in the Kansas City office of the insurance company which issued the policy, which was held by the deceased, showed that Turner had received several thousand dollars in settlement. Chief Toyne declared.

Mrs. Charles G. Husted, mother of Mrs. Turner, who lives near Lawrence, Kan., said today she believed Turner had settled for about $5000 with the insurance companies.

County records at Nevada, Mo., show that Turner executed a will yesterday, Dec. 5, to Mrs. Gage for 160 acres of land, Toyne said.
The consideration was $11,300, subject to two mortgages, one for $1800 and the other for $1500. It is understood that Turner turned over insurance policies on her life to Turner as collateral for the remainder.

Both Drank, He Says.
Turner denied to police that he had poisoned Mrs. Gage, but he would not make a statement. He said he had two bottles of corn whisky yesterday which he deposited were bought in St. Joseph.
Both drank from one bottle and later Mrs. Gage drank from the second bottle. Gage turned bitter, he continued. Sampling the second bottle without swallowing
the liquor, Turner said he found it bitter and threw both bottles out the window. The broken glass was picked up and will be used for analysis.

Turner said he held $7000 in insurance policies on Mrs. Gage's life, explaining that he had sold her
a farm and was holding the policies as security for notes she had given him.

Turner Was Arrested After His Wife Was Poisoned.

ATCHISON, Kan., March 12.—
Mrs. Dora Gage drove to Kansas City yesterday morning with Roy
M. Turner, who is held in connection with her death. Mrs. Gage was divorced three years ago and lived here with her daughter, Mrs.
Russell Stanley. Her mother had been acquainted with Turner only a short time, Mrs. Stanley said.

Shortly after his marriage his wife was drowned when a canoe in which she was riding with Turner capsized in the Cottonwood River, near Emporia, Kan. Turner swam here with her. He was arrested in connection with his wife's death, but was released.

PRESIDENT DECIDES TO FIGHT IT OUT WITH SENATE; RENOMINATES WARRENCONTEMPT RULING IN MILLSPAUGH
CASE IS UPHELD

State Finance Commissioner Had Refused to Testify in Civil Banking Suit.

HIS INTERPRETATION OF THE LAW UPSET

Remanded to Custody of Mercer County Sheriff Until He Indicates Willingness to Appear.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—
The Supreme Court on banc today upheld a judgment of contempt issued against State Finance Commissioner Millspaugh in the Mercer County Circuit Court, for refusal to testify in a civil banking case, and thereby upset the commissioner's interpretation of the law, that he could not be compelled to testify concerning a bank examination, in trial of a civil case
in the courts.

Millspaugh was ordered remanded to the custody of the Sheriff of Mercer County, at Princeton, Mo.,
"until such time as he may indicate to the Court his willingness to testify and produce books and papers called for in the subpoena."

History of Case.
The Finance Commissioner was adjudged in contempt of court and ordered to jail by Circuit Judge Wood on Dec. 11 last, after he had refused to produce department records, or testify, in a civil suit brought by a bank to collect a $7000 note alleged to be overdue.
The defendants were F. A. and L.
E. Lambert. The jail confinement was "constructive," however, as court officials agreed to allow Millspaugh to return to Jefferson City and await the law by seeking his release on an application for a writ of habeas corpus in Supreme Court. The Court today declared that writ in ruling against Millspaugh.

The Finance Commissioner has contended that one section of State banking laws prevents him
from revealing any information gained in the examination of a bank, except when called as a witness in a criminal proceeding. He asserted he could not be compelled to testify concerning a bank examination, or the condition of a bank, in a civil case.

This section requires the Commissioner and examiners to keep secret all information obtained in an examination "except so far as the public duty of such official requires him to make report upon or take special action regarding the affairs of any bank—and except when he is called as a witness in any criminal proceeding or trial
in a court of justice."

Millspaugh's Contention.
In seeking a writ of habeas corpus Millspaugh's attorneys contended the intent of the law was to cover only criminal cases. This was based on a technical construction of the absence of a comma
from one phrase of the section.

Judge Graves, who wrote the opinion, overruled this contention.
"Why should the lawmakers look solely to the interest of the public, or defending criminal, and leave
out the valuable property interests of the citizens of the State?" He said, "Why should they give the State, and the defendant in a criminal case a key to unlock the secret information of a State Department, and not give the citizen, whose rights might be at stake in a civil case, the same key?"

The Judge declared the law covered both criminal and civil cases,
and that it had been generally understood for years both by the courts and the bar, that bank examiners could be compelled to testify in any case, civil or criminal.

He pointed out this was the first test case brought into the Supreme Court.

All Judges concurred in the opinion.

Secrecy Rules Applied.
Secrecy rules applied to the affairs of banking have been applied also to the affairs of closed
banks and by the Finance Commissioner and his special attorneys,
some of whom have been paid huge fees in the liquidation of defunct banks.

SUN YAT-SEN
CHINESE LEADER,
DIES OF CANCER

First President of Republic, and Later Head of Southern Government, Succumbs at 63.

COFFIN ORDERED FROM MOSCOW

Dying, He Expressed Wish to Be Embalmed "Like My Friend Lenin"— Conscious to Last.

By the Associated Press.

PEKING, March 12.—Dr. Sun
Yat-Sen, upon whose head the Manchu dynasty fixed a price of $200, 000 when Dr. Sun was campaigning for a republic in China, died here this morning from cancer of the liver. He was 63 years old.

Dr. Sun was identified with almost every phase of public life in his country. He was first President of the republic created in 1912, and in recent years he had maintained
an administration styled the Southern Government of China, at Canton. In his declining years he opposed the central Government at Peking.

Dr. Sun was stricken when he arrived here late in January as a delegate to a conference having for its purpose the unification of China.

Thought He Would Recover.
Dr. Sun's experience as a surgeon in his youth provided him with a sustaining philosophy during his last days. His physicians said today that the extension of the life of their patient was due to his refusal to admit the seriousness of his condition since he underwent an operation on Jan. 26. Dr. Sun believed until the last that he would recover.

At his death Dr. Sun was surrounded by members of his family and several leaders in the Kuomintang party—the Sun Yat-Sen party—who were brought to Peking by the approaching death of their leader.

"I want to be embalmed like my friend Lenin, the Russian leader," said Dr. Sun just before he died.
He asked also that he be buried at Nanking, where he first served as President.

The body was sent to the Rockefeller hospital for embalming. Orders have been cabled to Moscow
for a casket similar to that used for the burial of Lenin.

The death of Sun finds the southern provinces, which he controlled, engaged in factional warfare. His old enemy, Gen. Chen Chiung-Ming recently made an attempt to gain control of Kwang-tung province, in which Canton is situated, by an attack from the east, but according to cable reports was repulsed and fled across the border to Amoy. Other adherents of Chen have gathered at Lu Chow, west of Canton and against them a force is now being dispatched, a dispatch received from Canton says.

Since his illness there has been considerable discussion in China regarding his possible successor as head of the Kuomintang, the party which he so long led. It was recently reported in Peking that Sun Po, Dr. Sun's son, had been endeavoring to induce Gen. Feng Yuh-hsiang, "the Christian general," to take the leadership of the party to prevent a split in the organization.

SMOKING IN BED RESULTS
IN MAN'S SERIOUS INJURY

Salesman Falls Asleep and Lands
in Hospital Under Treatment for Suffocation.

Frank O'Brien, 38 years old, a salesman, was seriously burned
early today after he fell asleep
when smoking a cigarette in bed
in the rooming house at 4216
Westminster place.

His landlady, attracted by smoke, awoke and found him burned down the door of O'Brien room at 5 a. m., and, groping
through smoke, found him unconscious on the floor of a closet.
Apparently he had arisen and staggered into the closet, thinking it was an outside door.

ALSO WAS ONLY ONE

Owner Enjoined Temporarily
From Operating Brown
"Town Cab."

A temporary injunction prohibiting William La Tour from operating a taxicab resembling in color scheme the cabs of the Brown Taxicab Co. was issued by Circuit Judge Falkenhainer today following a hearing in which the company accused La Tour of imitating its machines.

The cab company complained that not only was the color misleading to customers, but that La Tour's machine bore the number
50 and the name "Town Cab."
When called out, this name, it was contended, would sound like
"Brown Cab," and lead passengers to believe the service they were getting was that rendered by the Brown company.

La Tour was put on the stand.
"How many cabs do you operate?" he was asked by counsel for the company.
"One."

"Then where do you get that number 50?"
"Fifty is my lucky number."
"Can you give us any instances in which 50 proved to be a lucky number for you?"

La Tour couldn't, and the Judge decided to have a look at the cab himself. Accompanied by two lawyers, he walked into Judge Killore's court where court was in session and stirred considerable curiosity by looking out of a window at the machine, parked in the street below.

Returning to the bench, he said
he wasn't so sure about the color confusion but, provided the company would put up a $2500 bond,
he would issue a temporary writ to be effective until he could look up a point of law.

ROCK ISLAND AND COTTON BELT NOT TO MERGE AT ONCE

Neither Is Any Change in Management of St. Louis Southwestern Contemplated at Present.

STOCKS OF BOTH ROADS ADVANCE

Edwin Gould, Last of Family to Retain Active Direction of a Line, Hints at Retirement.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, March 12.—Acquisition of the St. Louis Southwestern (Cotton Belt) Railway Co. by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Co., announced in Wall Street yesterday, will not be followed by an immediate merger of the two roads. Nor will the personnel of the management of the Cotton Belt, which has general offices in St. Louis, be changed at present.

Charles Hayden, chairman of the board of the Rock Island, who acquired control of the Cotton Belt by obtaining the dominant stock interest, held by Edwin Gould, chairman of the Cotton Belt, announced today that the Cotton Belt was being efficiently operated by President David Hughes, and that there would be no change in the policy or management of the acquired railroad, and that all executive, operating, traffic and other officers would be retained in their present positions.

Announcement a Surprise.—An announcement of the acquisition came as a surprise to Wall Street, for it had been thought the St. Louis Southwestern would go into a combination with the Frisco and others, forming a system to compete with the enlarged Missouri Pacific system.

Stocks of both railroads advanced with the announcement. The transaction, it is understood, was conducted on a cash basis and will involve no exchange of securities or an offer to minority stockholders. The change was made, according to Hayden, through the acquisition by the Rock Island of a dominant interest in the stock of the Cotton Belt system, which, with the shares owned by interests friendly to the Rock Island, enable it to control that company.

Edwin Gould, chairman of the St. Louis Southwestern, and the last member of his noted family to retain active direction of a railroad, announced that in disposing of his holding of Cotton Belt stock to the Rock Island, he had promoted what he conceived to be the true destiny of this road.

Hints at Retirement.—In hinting at his early retirement from official responsibilities, Gould said he would retain an interest in the road and urged other security holders to retain their holdings. Wall Street immediately began to speculate on the motives which prompted the new alignment. The combined Rock Island-St. Louis Southwestern properties, it is expected, will eventually form the nucleus for a new Southwestern railroad consolidation or will be drawn together into the Southern Pacific system, to which the Rock Island was originally allotted in the Interstate Commerce Commission's tentative grouping plan.

The Kansas City Southern Railroad, it was intimated in some quarters, would replace the "Cotton Belt" in the combined system. The new alignment, which includes the Frisco, Missouri-Kansas-Texas and Chicago & Alton systems, and might speed up the voluntary consolidation of these roads.

Change in Directorate.—Entrance of the Rock Island interests into the "Cotton Belt" management was formally signaled by the election of four of the former's officials and directors to the St. Louis Southwestern board. The new members are Hayden, chairman; J. E. Gorman, president, and Marcus L. Bell, vice president of the Rock Island, and N. L. Amster, a Rock Island director.

From the St. Louis office of the Rock Island, Hayden explained, the "Cotton Belt" was regarded as a desirable acquisition. Under the efficient and careful guidance of Edwin Gould, during a period of more than 30 years, he added, it had passed successfully through trials to which many of its neighbors had succumbed, and had grown to be a sound and efficient transportation system. Present construction and expansion programs, he said, would be completed.

Dinner for Louis Blumenstock.—Louis Blumenstock, former advertising manager of the Stix, B. & Fuller Dry Goods Co., and for 15 years engaged in the advertising business in St. Louis, was the guest at a dinner tendered by friends at the Columbian Club, last night. Blumenstock will depart soon for Pittsburg to become advertising manager for a large department store. Walter Glaser of Julius Glaser & Co., president at the dinner. The guest was presented with a traveling bag.

taken to President Harding, who signed it May 31, 1921. Roosevelt's deposition said he knew neither of the leasing of the Elk Hills naval reserve in California nor the Teapot Dome lease until they were publicly announced and that he had always been under the impression that it was not the intention of the Navy Department to permit leasing of the entire fields. He had understood, he said, that only offset wells, on the borders of naval reserves adjoining commercial fields, were to be drilled and these merely to prevent drainage of the naval oil stores.

Testimony of John P. Shafroth, a Lieutenant-Commander in the navy at the time that he and H. A. Stuart, a Commander, both assigned to the administrative affairs connected with naval oil, were transferred from duty in the Navy Department to sea because they were "too zealous in looking after the naval oil reserve" in consequence of the policy of the previous administration, was read into the Government record.

Wanted Security From Sinclair.

That Fall took cognizance of "congressional agitation" about the time the lease was executed, was shown in Government exhibits of a telegram on April 18, 1922, from Fall, who then was at his ranch at Three Rivers, N. M., to E. C. Finney, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, directing the latter to notify Sinclair to furnish security bonds to back his side of the contract.

banks. They have interpreted the law as prohibiting the Commission from disclosing any information concerning shorthages, irregularities, acts of bank officials and employees, except in a criminal proceeding.

This has resulted in complaints from depositors in closed banks, who in some instances have received no information concerning the failure of the bank months after the closing. Several bills now pending in the Legislature are designed to remedy this situation and make it possible for depositors of wrecked banks to obtain information about the bank and the causes of failure as soon as it is available. Another bill makes it mandatory upon the Commissioner to place evidence of all irregularities before the prosecuting attorney.

MEMORIAL TO TWO AMERICANS

By the Associated Press. ROME, March 12.—A memorial monument commemorating the death during the war of two American artists, Harry Dickinson Thresher, sculptor, and Walter Ward, architect, was unveiled today on the summit of the Janiculum Hill, overlooking the Tiber River.

Prof. Barry Faulkner of the American Academy of Fine Arts in Rome, the principal speaker, recalled that Thresher, who was a Lieutenant in the Fourth Engineers, was killed on the Western front in France and that Ward, who was a student at Princeton and Columbia Universities, was a warrant officer in the United States Navy, assigned to a destroyer in the North Sea. Ward died in a hospital after an operation. Among those who attended the ceremonies were Henry P. Fletcher, American Ambassador; the Rev. Walter Lowrie, rector of the American Church at Rome, and the American military and naval attaches.

A second physician was called last night in night. Barrymore will depart soon for Pittsburg to become advertising manager for a large department store. ## PRESIDENT SENDS WARREN'S NAME BACK TO SENATE will come before the next session of the Senate, with the same membership as at present, and the battle will have to be fought all over again. The possibility was suggested by some Senators that the Judiciary Committee would solve the problem, so far as the present session is concerned, by sitting on the nomination without action. Butler said to have made convincing argument to Warren.

By the Associated Press. BOSTON, March 12.—President Harding's close friend, elevated by him to the chairmanship of the Republican National Committee and but recently appointed to the seat formerly held by Henry Cabot Lodge, who told Mr. Coolidge that the Senate leaders had given up too easily on the Warren nomination. At a breakfast conference with the executive and Warren himself, Senator Butler insisted that the vote for confirmation could be obtained and should be obtained.

Mr. Coolidge and the nominee listened attentively to this new presentation of the case. The President then resubmitted the nomination of Walter L. Cohen to be Customs Comptroller at New Orleans after it once had been rejected.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, declared there was a general feeling in the Senate that the nomination should not have been sent back by the President. "This was not decided as a partisan matter," he said in a statement. "The case was decided on its merits. Some Senators believe the Cohen case is a precedent, but there is a general feeling that the nomination should be presented again only under change of conditions."

The Republican Senate leader, Curtis of Kansas, had a long talk with the President after the session during the day at the White House and said afterward he believed the nomination would be confirmed. He expects a vote within two or three days.

"The President signed the nomination after he had gone to the Senate. This brief announcement was made by Secretary Sanders at the White House."

"At the request of the President, Mr. Warren consented to allow his name to be presented again to the Senate."

White House officials would not enlarge on the belated announcement or indicate just what its purpose might be. By Senators it was deduced that the President intended to assume full responsibility and draw a direct issue between himself and opponents of the nomination.

MOHAMMEDAN PRINCE DIVORCES MRS. NASH

"Best Dressed Woman" Says They Couldn't Agree on Religion.

Copyright 1925, by the Press and Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, March 12.—Mrs. Jean Nash, "the best dressed woman in Europe," who was married to Prince Sabat Bey in Cairo Feb. 2, admitted last night that the marriage was dissolved a week ago in accordance with Mohammedan law.

"We found our religious ideas too divergent," she said. "My mother strongly objected when I was married to the Prince. We have agreed to disagree. We are still the best of friends. After I had received my mother's letters I felt I could not go on."

"I told my husband how I felt. He was most charming. So about 10 days ago we went to Nice and he took the boat to Cairo. All he had to do was to say he wanted a divorce and the necessary papers were made out right away by an obliging priest."

The Mohammedan law permits a man to divorce his wife whenever he wishes, without giving any reason.

Jean Nash was born in the United States, the daughter of the late E. C. Donelson. Her mother lives in New York. When she was the wife of Capt. John Victor Nash of the British Army, she was called in open court by an English judge "the most extravagant woman in Europe." Sabat Bey was her fourth husband.

SENATE DEMOCRATS WANT ACTION ON WORLD COURT

Agree to Press for Decision on That Measure on Isle of Pines Treaty.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, March 12.—Senate Democrats, meeting today to adopt a policy to be followed in the special session of that body, agreed to press for an early vote on the Isle of Pines treaty and to insist on making the World Court question a special order early in the next Congress.

It was agreed that the Democrats should co-operate if the Republican majority should decide to bring the court issue up at this session. The Lausanne treaty with Turkey was not discussed. After the conference, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, issued the following statement:

"With respect to the World Court, it developed that the overwhelming sentiment of the conference was in favor of the World Court and it was agreed that the minority should initiate nothing that would occasion delay in acting upon the World Court but should the majority express a desire or intention to consider the matter at this special session the minority would agree to co-operate."

"In the event that the majority should take no action whatsoever on the World Court, the minority would consider the matter at this special order for some early date in the next regular session."

SUPREME COURT DENIES BOND TO ALLEGED SLAYER

Insanity Plea of Paul Fieselle of Weight Only in Trial Decision States.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—An application by Paul Fieselle, under an indictment of first degree murder in St. Louis in connection with the murder of William Pappas last November, for a writ of habeas corpus to obtain his release on bond pending trial, was denied today by the Supreme Court on banc.

The Court held that the insanity plea advanced by Fieselle's attorneys was of weight only in trial of the case and not in the matter of bond. It also disregarded the contention of Fieselle's attorneys that there was no evidence of deliberation in the alleged crime.

Fieselle is charged with fatally stabbing Pappas, who had married a sister of Fieselle. In overruling the defense contention that there was no evidence of deliberation in the crime, the Court pointed out that Fieselle, according to the evidence, had threatened Pappas with a revolver two days before the day Pappas was stabbed to death.

FINDS HER DAUGHTER

MARRIED TO 'BURGLAR'

Woman's Joyous Reunion With Girl Turned to Anguish by His Arrest.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, March 12.—What had been a scene of rejoicing and happiness in the tiny apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Seldow on the second floor of 455 Sackett street, Brooklyn, turned suddenly yesterday afternoon into one of despair and anguish.

For two years Mrs. A. B. Wood, prominent in Washington social and political life, had sought her missing daughter, Mary, who disappeared a week after her graduation from a convent at Leonardtown, Md., supposedly to seek a career on the stage.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Wood found Mary, now 18, the bride of a baker. It was with no small pride that Mary Seldow took her mother up the dark flight of stairs of the house they have been occupying to introduce to her the husband of her choosing.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Wood's son left her daughter's home practically assured that she and her husband would return to her comfortable home in Washington. Mary Seldow went out to make a few purchases.

Crowd Staring at Windows.
She returned home an hour later to find 200 men, women and children staring up into the vacant windows of that apartment. Not one of them would tell what had happened.

Hastily she mounted the stairs and burst into her apartment to find it empty.

Then from a number of newspaper men who had congregated in the hallway she heard that her husband had been arrested.

While this group stood comforted Mrs. Seldow as she sobbed and cried out in the hallway, light steps came from below and another woman started up the stairs.

"Mother! Mother!" and the young girl threw herself into the arms of the mother.

"They've arrested Jack!" "They've arrested Jack!" "Then again, to the mother, the tale was told."

A Criminal Record.
"I can't believe it," she cried. "Why, only this afternoon I left them with the piano almost mad for them to come back to Washington. They were to have been married in the Catholic Church on Monday and then they would have come back."

The police record read: "Morris Seldow, alias Seldow, alias Seldowitz, married, age 27, born in Russia, occupation chauffeur, charge burglary. Sentenced Elmira Reformatory Feb. 27, 1922, on charge of burglary. Released Oct. 20, 1924, arrested, assault, no disposition."

The police say that after his release from Elmira he was instructed to report weekly. He appeared 11 times and failed to appear on the twelfth.

That twelfth time the police say, was the day after he had assaulted a negro with the controller handle of a trolley car, which resulted in his arrest for assault.

Search for Missing Boy.
Charles Burroughs, 17 years old, of 2015 Wash. street, is being sought by police officers at the request of relatives. The boy disappeared March 5. Later members of the family learned he had gone to Kansas city with two other boys. The others returned to their homes and told of having left Burroughs in Kansas City.

Captain, Dies.
The case was one which involved a man who he said was a Dickson, but the defendant, who is now in the verdict in a young wife courtroom in a with their 2.

TWO MEN ARRESTED ON FIRST 'JOB' HERE

Prisoners Admit Committing Three Crimes in Illinois, Including Theft of Auto.

Two men who committed three crimes in Illinois before coming to St. Louis were arrested last night as they were about to commit a fourth one here.

Patrolman John T. Sanders noticed one of the men come out of Fairgrounds Park and slowly walk to Prairie and Lee avenues, followed by a man in a Ford automobile. They were waiting in front of the grocery of John Pohlman, 3801 Lee avenue, when the policeman arrested both, taking a revolver from the pedestrian.

The prisoners were booked as James Davis, 21, and Fred Tesso, 26, of Chicago. They said they left Chicago last Thursday after Davis took $35 from the register of a restaurant in which he was a waiter. They went to Bloomington, where they stole the Ford, then drove to Springfield and obtained $32 in a holdup in a hardware store. Arriving Sunday in East St. Louis, they engaged a room at Thirteenth and Baugh streets and proceeded to St. Louis to continue in crime. They said they selected the grocery as their first "job" here, and were waiting for several customers to depart when they were arrested.

Two Men Caught After Police Are Summoned by Telephone

A telephone message that burglars were at the C. Danforth Soda Water Co., 1028 Frey avenue, brought a squad of police there at 1:30 a. m. today. Two men who ran as the police approached were captured, but denied knowledge of any burglary. The safe, which had been left unlocked, because it was newly painted, was open and ransacked. A chisel, punch and screwdriver were on the floor. Nothing of value had been taken.

Burglars' tools also were found at two other places. At the Grand-Leader relay station, 3720 Laclede avenue, a private watchman investigated a noise at the rear and saw two men flee, leaving behind a sledge hammer, two punches and a pinch bar.

At the Polar Wave Ice Co. branch, 1927 South Vandeventer avenue, burglars were scared away after forcing the doors of a safe, and left behind a hammer, pinch bar and jimmy.

"Give me that money," demanded an armed man who stopped George Magill, manager of a Kresge store at Ninth and Tyler streets, as he was about to enter his home, 1919 A. Main street, at 6:45 o'clock. Magill took a nap package of boiled ham from a pocket and handed it to the robber, who departed, apparently thinking he had the store's receipts.

Two young men after eating chop suey at the Tuxedo Cafe, 563 Delmar boulevard, held up the manager, Fun Leon, and a waiter at 10:40 p. m. and escaped with $50. After they were gone, Leon fired five shots into the floor to attract police.

Other Holdups Reported.

Other holdups reported last night and yesterday afternoon were: Butcher shop of William Weiss, 4416 St. Ferdinand avenue, $15 taken; clothing store of Charles Rubenstein, 920 South Vandeventer avenue, $104; notion store of John R. Sweeney, 1808 Madison street, $50; William Hannah, 2844 Benton street, and Bernard Kording, 1511 South Fourteenth street, laundry drivers, held up on routes and robbed of $70 and $35, respectively. Burglars took $20 and two diamond rings valued at $450 from the home of Mrs. John Thomas, 1616 A Goodfellow avenue, and two saxophones valued at $260, from a musician's room at the Loew's State Theater.

General Strike at Lima Reported. BUENOS AIRES, March 12.—A delayed dispatch to La Nacion which was filed at Lima, Peru, on Tuesday, indicates that a general strike began in the Peruvian capital Monday as a protest against the award of President Coolidge on the Tacna-Arica controversy between Chile and Peru.

GIANT SUBMARINES STOP 'INVADING' FLEET

Pierce "Enemy" Lines off West Coast and Cruisers Complete Rout in 9-Hour Battle.

By the Associated Press.
ABOARD U. S. S. SEATTLE OFF COAST OF LOWER CALIFORNIA, March 12.—The United States fleet early today is cruising to San Diego. Ten dreadnaughts, nine scout cruisers, 53 destroyers, 15 submarines, an aircraft carrier and many auxiliaries are moving in majestic alignment as one unit under the four-star flag of Admiral Robert E. Coontz, commander in chief. At dawn yesterday these sea fighters completed one of the most spectacular maneuvers in the history of the Pacific, a problem which after two weeks of cruising culminated in a nine-hour night "battle."

Major interest centered in the performance of a dozen S-type 360-foot submarines which completed a 2400-mile dash from the Panama Canal under battle conditions and effectively penetrated the lines of the great invading fleet.

The battleship light cruisers divisions will proceed from San Diego to San Pedro, Monday morning, preparatory to the biggest naval gunnery shoot of the year on March 25, in which all the battleships fire salvoes at targets, with the 200 big guns of the fleet shooting simultaneously.

Surprise Enemy Destroyers. The S-boats Tuesday night sought out the black enemy racing through the moonlit sea to establish a hostile base of operations on the Mexican seaboard. The black fleet, a backbone of giant dreadnaughts, protecting their supply ships with a fringe of destroyers guarding its progress was near its goal. About 9 o'clock the alarm was sounded, but too late—the submarines of the blue defenders already had penetrated the black destroyer line and the swift, blue scout cruisers, coming up into the rear of the black armada, completed the rout.

Several black destroyers opened fire on the S-boats, and one of the latter replied with three torpedoes that found their marks in the black line. Then the destroyers of both clashed in the fight and a battle between destroyers and submarines followed. While this battle was raging, the blue scout cruisers bore down on the rear of the black battle line and the invaders were repulsed.

Run Dangers of Real Battle. Throughout the night submarine periscopes popped up through the crest of waves and shafts of light upon destroyers and battleships indicated the submarines had taken the range, simulating firing of torpedoes. Destroyers darted back and forth, simulating the ramming, torpedoing, training rifles and setting depth charges in attack and defense.

Messages, orders, reports of positions poured through in code and the fortified cities, aggregating 25,000 men, were active with burning excitement. All navigational dangers of battle were present, as dreadnaughts, cruisers, destroyers, submarines, minesweepers and auxiliary craft worked in and out in perfect tactical positions at all speeds in the moonlit waters. That many of these vessels were not actually rammed and sunk is a monumental demonstration of efficient seamanship.

Crew Rescued From Ice Floes. By the Associated Press. ST. JOHN, N. F., March 12.—The crew of the sealing steamer Stella Maria, which was reported crushed in ice floes and sinking yesterday, was rescued last night, according to a radio dispatch from the steamer Prospero, one of the two vessels that had been searching for the Stella Maria and her crew.

LOVE STORY OF RECLUSE REVEALED

Blind Woman Holds Note for $150,000 Which She Says He Signed.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Tucked away and almost lost in a dull flow of legal verbiage in court papers is a curious story of the love of an eccentric old gentleman, of a family of social prominence here and in Baltimore, for a blind woman nearly 40 years his junior.

Henry T. Keyser, who lived for 30 years in a suite of three cluttered rooms at the Hotel Majestic, seldom venturing forth and interminably fusing with great piles of grumbling papers, died Dec. 17, after a lingering illness.

Among the litter of his apartment were found valuable securities and cash. His estate is estimated variously as $200,000 and $750,000. He was 74 years old.

Not until yesterday, when lawyers for 13 of the old man's first cousins once removed, obtained an injunction against her, was the story of Miss Catherine Genin Burke, known, she holds a promissory note for $150,000 which, she says, was signed by Keyser on Dec. 7, 12 days before his death. The lawyers for his relatives obtained a temporary injunction from Supreme Court Justice Erlanger, preventing her from selling or disposing of the promissory note. This will make of the case an equity action which will avoid a trial jury before which the blind woman might appear as a witness.

Engaged for a Year.

In explanation of the promissory note, Miss Burke's attorney, Harold R. Medina, said: "We will show that the old gentleman was first interested in her out of sympathy and that later he fell in love with her. They became engaged years ago. He urged her and her mother, Mrs. Mary A. Burke, to come here from Madison, Wis., where the daughter was a student in the University of Wisconsin.

"The old man wanted her to complete her education. She and her mother no longer had money. Mr. Keyser paid for her course at Barnard College. She graduated from there in 1922, winning a Phi Beta Kappa key. He took her to the theater and other places and he found he loved her. They became engaged. He gave a dinner at a hotel here, to which he invited many of her friends from college and elsewhere. At the end of the dinner the old gentleman gracefully informed the guests he was engaged to Miss Burke."

Early Friends of Keyser.

According to this story, Mrs. Burke, the mother, and her husband were well-to-do and were friends of Keyser before the birth of the daughter. Keyser had inherited a large fortune from his father, a wealthy Baltimore merchant. When Burke died, his widow found that she had no money left. She took her daughter, born blind, west. For years they remained there while the girl grew up, her mother scarcely able to support her.

During those years the mother taught her daughter. The girl learned to take notes on paper held in a steel frame, making perforations with a stylus, and she copied them on a typewriter.

When she entered Barnard College her mother continued this method. Each night as the daughter took notes, the mother read to her. When the daughter graduated nothing was said publicly of her engagement to Keyser. It was said she would go into "social work for the blind."

Keyser Paralyzed.

Last May Keyser had a stroke of apoplexy. His right arm became paralyzed. He asked Mrs. Burke and her daughter to take a suite in the Hotel Majestic so they could be near him. Even then he used to go out walking, he leading the blind woman, she supporting his right side.

Other strokes followed, the girl's lawyer said. Keyser was forced to do all his writing with his left hand. This is in explanation of the charge of the lawyers for the relatives that the signature of the promissory note is "illegible and does not look like other signatures of Henry T. Keyser."

When he died Mrs. Burke and her blind daughter were the only ones at the bedside except the doctors and nurses. They moved away a few days later to 223 Riverside Drive.

It was when S. S. Keyser of the Union Club and Cortland Betts, a friend, as temporary administrators, were trying to close up the estate that they learned of the promissory note.

Miss Burke is a timid woman of 55 years.

NONE OF LADY CARNARVON'S

MONEY FOR MRS. DENNISTOUN

$100,000 Set Aside at Her Marriage
Is for Both Her and Husband, Cross-Examination Reveals.
By the Associated Press.
LONDON, March 12.—Even if Mrs. Ian Onslow Dennistoun was her suit against her former husband, Lieutenant-Colonel Dennistoun, for money which she alleges she loaned him before they were divorced, she cannot get hold of any money which Lady Carnarvon settled upon Lieutenant-Colonel Dennistoun when they were married, it was brought out today during cross-examination of A. W.
Fyzer, solicitor for the defense, who was called as a witness.

Fyzer declared that although Lady Carnarvon had set aside
£100,000 sterling when she married Colonel Dennistoun after his divorce in 1921, "this sum was settled upon both as a little nest egg on which they could always rely." The cross-examination was replete with references to Lady Carnarvon's wealth, which the witness admitted was of great extent.

Colonel Dennistoun appeared in the courtroom for the first time in three days. The present Earl of Carnarvon, who also attended, sat beside his mother.

TWO MORE EGAN GANGSTERS ARE TAKEN TO LEAVENWORTH

Edward Leonard and Bartley Martin, Begin Six-Year Terms for Mail Robbery at Pocatontos.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 12.— Edward (Cocky) Leonard and Bartley Martin, members of the St.
Louis Egan gang, are in Leavenworth penitentiary today beginning a six-year term each imposed yesterday in Federal Court for admitted participation in the Pocatontos mail robbery in 1923.

Following their request to be sent immediately to Leavenworth,
they left Springfield at midnight
under a guard of a United States Marshal. There are now 11 Eganites at Leavenworth including Din-ty Colbeck, leader of the gang.

Leonard and Martin, were indicted March 5 in the Pocatontos job, along with Colbeck, Oliver Dougherty, Lee Turner and William Engler. Turner, the aviator-gangster, and Engler are still at large. The six men were indicted on the testimony of Ray Renard, a former Egan man, whose testimony sent Colbeck and the others to Leavenworth for other mail robberies. The Pocatontos robbery was staged by six men who kidnaped an aged mail messenger and took a pouch containing $4000. Turner's airplane was wrecked near the scene.

PLEA FOR PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 12.—"An alarming increase in the criminality of the young" was attributed today in a brief filed in the Supreme Court by the Episcopal Church Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society to the "exclusion of religious influences from the public schools of the nation."

The society appeared as a friend of the Court in the suit brought by private and parochial schools to test the validity of the compulsory education laws of Oregon. Should they be sustained, the brief asserted,
there was danger other states
would adopt similar legislation.

TAX EXEMPTION BODY BILL IS ENGROSSED

House Advances Measure for State Board to Study Status of Property.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—A bill creating a State Tax Exemption Board, to investigate alleged evasions of taxation and particularly to inquire into the status of tax-exempt property held in the names of various institutions exempted by law from taxation, was engrossed today by the House.

While the bill is drawn up in general terms it is designed chiefly to continue an investigation of tax-exempt property held by Washington University and other institutions in St. Louis. Such an investigation was started by a House committee, but cannot be completed by the committee, as the Legislature will adjourn before the work can be finished. Under provisions of the bill the board could function only in St. Louis, St. Louis County and Kansas City.

Representative Schneider of St. Louis, a member of the committee, in urging engrossment, stated the investigation in St. Louis had disclosed that at least $96,000,000 in property there was escaping taxation. He said that between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000 of this represented income producing property held by institutions exempt from taxation although this property was competing with other property subject to taxation.

The House Committee, of which Henri Chouteau of St. Louis is chairman, will hold another hearing in St. Louis Saturday in the office of Comptroller Nolte. At that meeting the committee will hear testimony concerning tax-exempt property of Principia Academy, the Missouri Historical Society, Druids Hall and the St. Louis Public Library.

Under the provisions of the bill engrossed today the board would function for only two years from the time of passage of the bill. It would comprise three members, not more than two from the same political party, who would serve without pay. The board would have the right to summon witnesses and records, conduct hearings, direct the Assessor to assess property which it finds should not be exempted from taxation, and to file suit for collection of taxes on such property.

3 RUNAWAYS JUST WANTED A MOTHER

Two Brothers and Lonely Companion Came 270 Miles for Home Without Funds.

"Oh, no. Not my boys. My boys haven't run away. Marshall and Winfield are at the Masonic Orphans' Home at La Grange, Ill. I had to send them there after their father's death a year ago so I could work."

Mrs. Anna May Whaley, 6513 Hobart avenue, was trying to explain to a Post-Dispatch reporter that he was mistaken in his information that her sons were on their way home from Joliet, Ill., where they had related to authorities that they had run away and wanted to go home.

Just as Mrs. Whaley confidently explained the impossibility of such a thing, the kitchen door was opened stealthily and three dust-covered travelers tip-toed into the room at her back. They paused and looked doubtfully at her. Then two of them rushed toward her.

Bring a Companion.
"Marshall," the mother cried as two dirty hands clutched her in an embrace.

"Winnie! Winnie, my baby," as two chubby arms encircled her neck.

The third member of the trio, a lad of Marshall's age, 13, silently stood by and with the back of a grimy fist, nervously wiped his moist and misty eyes—a picture of loneliness.

"This is Otto Sauter," Marshall explained. "He hasn't any mamma or papa and we told him to come home with us and he could have a mamma even if we didn't have a daddy any more. Otto was tired of staying at the home and wanted a mother. Didn't you, Otto?"

The boy nodded and was drawn into the group. He nestled close and his smile of contentment bespoke 10 motherless years.

Runaways Relate Story.
Then the runaways related their story. Homesick, 9-year-old Winfield cried for his mother. Marshall was stricken with the contagion and a homegoing was planned. Otto learned of the plan and visions of a home brought his enthusiastic agreement to accompany them.

Early Tuesday morning the adventurers set out afoot for St. Louis, and mother, 270 miles distant. Eighteen miles they traversed on foot and a lift from a motorist brought them to Joliet Tuesday night. At the police station they related that they were from St. Louis and wished to return. Three tickets were given them after they had spent the night at the station.

After she had recovered from her surprise, Mrs. Whaley explained that it would be almost impossible for the boys to remain at home. They remonstrated against being separated from her again, but finally assented.

Otto was crestfallen, but he wanted to "go back to La Grange" if Marshall and Winfield did.

"Well, I'll have a home for a few days, anyway," he consoled himself.

"You certainly shall," Mrs. Whaley assured him.

Miscellaneous Woman Slain.
By the Associated Press.
BUFFALO, N. Y., March 12.—Mrs. Rose F. Kahn, who had been mysteriously missing from her home since Feb. 23, was found murdered in a small cottage near Fort Erie, Ontario, yesterday. She had been strangled. Beside her was the body of Norman Mack, also known as Norman McElroy, a nursery salesman. He had died from poison. Condition of the bodies indicated that the tragedy had occurred about a week ago. Mrs. Kahn evidently had put up a desperate struggle for her life. She was the wife of Charles C. Kahn, a tobaccoist of this city.

More Koretz Assets Discovered.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 12.—Government attorneys have announced that they had uncovered heretofore undiscovered assets of Leo Koretz, promoter of the $5,000,000 Bayano River oil "bubble" in Panama, who died a few weeks ago in the penitentiary at Joliet, after being captured in Canada, where he fled a year ago.

Jail for Woman Traffic Violator.

Mendelsohn, 19-year-old student at Columbia University and City College night schools, yesterday went to jail for 24 hours in default of a $5 fine. Do This After Severe Illness

How to Speedily Gain Strength and Put on Needed Weight.

Nothing like the wonderful vitalizing vitamins in Cod Liver Oil to help convalescing people to quickly get strong and well—everybody knows that.

But nobody wants to take the ill-smelling, horrible tasting, stomach-upsetting oil itself, so nowadays, up-to-date medical men are ordering a tablet of Cod Liver Oil, and it surely has proved a blessing to thousands of people who have been sapped of their natural strength after a severe illness, and especially after the Grippe or a stubborn cough or cold.

Ask Wolff-Wilson, Judge & Dolph Drug Stores, Enderle Drug Co., Johnson Bros. Drug Co. or any regular druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. They cost but little, are sugar coated and as pleasant to take as candy.

Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good healthy solid flesh, and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on 5 pounds or more in 30 days. As a matter of fact, your druggist will return your money if you don't take on 5 pounds in 30 days.

Great for weak, skinny, backward, run-down, and undernourished. Gives them a hearty appetite.

Be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—50 Tablets—50 cents.

BANKRUPT ORDERED
TO PRODUCE $27,345

Referee Says Bernard Reiss, Shoe Dealer Has Money
Under His Control.

Bernard S. Reiss, bankrupt shoe jobber of 901 Morgan street, who testified at his hearing in October that he lost $35,000 of his own and his creditors' money in a three months' gambling orgy, must produce $27,345 of the missing funds by March 19 or face citation before the United States District Court for contempt.

The order was issued Monday by Referee in Bankruptcy Coles, following a review of evidence submitted by Reiss and his associates at the hearing. The findings of the referee, the order states, are that Reiss "has in his possession or under his control the sum of $27,345 and it is hereby ordered by the referee that he turn over and deliver this amount to the trustee within 10 days."

The evidence upon which the order was based included Reiss' checkbooks showing that he had checked out the sum in question, in amounts ranging from $250 to $1500, to himself and others who testified in his behalf. Conflicting testimony of some of the other witnesses, locating Reiss in gambling games in St. Louis and Granite City at the same hour, also is understood to have a bearing on the referee's decision.

Reiss, who had been in business at the Morgan street address for four years, was relieved of his responsibilities on Aug. 30 last, when a receiver was appointed at the request of nine creditors, who presented claims of $30,000. Reiss' assets, upon liquidation, netted $1350. At his hearing before Referee Coles he testified he lost a large part of the money in dice and poker games in St. Louis County and East Side resorts, and Hyman Mable, his gambling companion, supported this testimony with a story of what a "big fish" and "rotten craps shooter" Reiss was, "always fading everybody and shooting $100 bills instead of ones and twos."

'HAVE JUST BEGUN TO TALK,' DECLARES GEN. MITCHELL

"Air Defense So Important American People Are Bound to Make It an Issue," He Says.

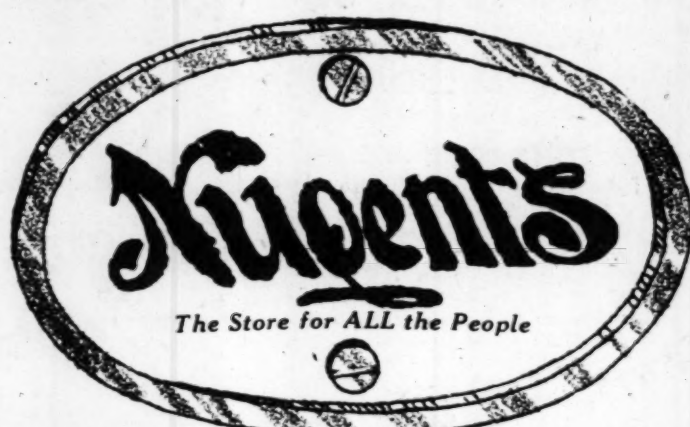

Seattle, Wash., March 12.—

"I have just begun to talk," declared Brigadier-General Mitchell, who arrived at his home here for a visit yesterday, when questioned regarding the air controversy at Washington.

"What has happened in Washington so far is merely a drop in the bucket. The entire subject of air defense is so important that the American people are bound to make it an issue. It is a question whether the United States will allow herself to remain in a position which would make her a plaything for foreign Powers in case of another war."

Gen. Mitchell thinks an appropriation of $45,000,000 annually for air defense will safeguard this country against foreign Powers. He predicts the future navy as a submarine unit, while the land forces, he believes, would be greatly reduced.

CHLORINE
Now at Drug Stores

The world's leading medical authorities recognize chlorine as the most effective agent ever known for treating colds and other surface respiratory diseases. Its discovery for this purpose was a triumph of Science. Until recently, however, this treatment was obtainable only at hospitals and with special equipment. But Science has scored another achievement in making chlorine treatment easily available to anybody. It has created a chlorine ointment, known as Chlorine Respirine, which when applied to the nostrils liberates pure chlorine gas which the act of breathing carries directly to the inflamed, diseased membranes. No more efficient method could possibly be invented. You can now treat yourself anywhere at any time and have the most effective protection against these common and serious diseases at the cost of only about a cent per treatment.

Knocks a Cold
in 3 Hours

Chlorine Respirine, which any druggist can supply, gives you the same pure chlorine gas as recommended by Health Departments and U. S. authorities. You feel the effect at once and you are cold in three hours. Have this remarkable, scientific discovery ready for use in colds, bronchitis, laryngitis, whooping cough and other surface respiratory diseases. Use it also as a preventative of these diseases. Tube containing 50 treatments costs only 50 cents. Ask your druggist for it today.

REPORTS ON SMOKING CHIMNEYS ASKED FOR

Christophel Solicits Aid of Public on Smoke Problem in Talk at City Club.

A movie entitled "The Three Atoms" was shown as an object lesson at the City Club yesterday, after Director of Public Safety Christophel and Smoke Commissioner Gordon had discussed the city's smoke problem. The movie was produced by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad to teach its firemen better firing methods for locomotives, but served to demonstrate in general the effect of proper firing in eliminating smoke and of improper firing in producing smoke. The three atoms, or elements, were carbon, hydrogen and oxygen, the first two being the constituent parts of coal. Atoms were visualized as comic characters dancing around in the firebox; carbon was otherwise known as "coon"; hydrogen as hydro-gel, a bathing girl in Bennett style, and oxygen as "Officer," a policeman. These characters and their doubles were joined and separated in various circumstances showing graphically how the chemical elements are shifted to produce heat, smoke, steam, etc.

Director Christophel said he wants all citizens to assist in eliminating smoke by reporting, anonymously or otherwise, chimneys of all sorts which belch smoke. Reports can be by telephone or letter to the Smoke Commissioner, city hall. "I'm taking more interest in the smoke campaign than in any other department under me," Christophel said.

Commissioner Gordon discussed what has been undertaken in his work, and said he plans to ask that policemen inquire of the owners of smoking chimneys whether they have received the city's simple instructions for proper firing. Those who have received the instruction cards would be warned to stop the smoke, and others would be given the cards. Gordon said he would seek co-operation of brick and tile plants, which often produce smoke, after the season of house heating is over.

NEW BELMONT BANKING FIRM

Son and Associate of Financier to Be Only Members.
NEW YORK, March 12.—Perpetuating the name of his father's firm, Morgan Belmont, younger son of August Belmont, who died Dec. 10 last, will form a new banking firm, to be known as August Belmont & Co., doing business at 45 Cedar street, where August Belmont & Co. flourished before Belmont's sudden death last December. The firm will be started the middle of this month. Besides Morgan Belmont, Edward Rice, for many years an associate of the old house of August Belmont & Co., will be the only other member.

What this new discovery does for Crows' feet

At last, a way to remedy crows' feet, those ugly marks around the eyes that cause one to look fogged out, weary and old beyond one's years. A wonderful new preparation, Domino Wrinkle Cream, simply lifts them away in a simple, natural manner. Gently pat it into each crease and wrinkle. No need to rub! As it hardens you feel a pleasant tingling sensation. It is the cream, drawing the skin taut, straightening out the ugly creases. A nourishing tonic in the cream enters through the pores, and feeds the tissues beneath, building them up to their former firm condition. The skin will be held taut by the flesh itself, as Nature meant it to be. You will be amazed at the new beauty in your face after using Domino Wrinkle Cream. The furrows and marks of age may be removed speedily. After a few weeks of application, your flesh is firm and soft. Purchase Domino Wrinkle Cream at your drug store. A tube that will last for weeks is less expensive than the price of one "facial". Recommended by Wolff-Wilcox Drug Co.

Danger Signals of High Blood Pressure

"Dizzy spells, hot flashes, palps in the head, shortness of breath, dizziness, and nervousness usually indicate high blood pressure," warns a physician who found treatment to reduce it. These are symptoms which show an accumulation of poisonous waste matter in the system or that one or more of your organs has weakened and caused the heart to be overtaxed. Check it at once for it is known high blood pressure brings on hardening of the arteries, apoplexy, bright's disease, and often sudden death.

The Easiest Way
To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

ALOE SAYS HE IS PROUD OF ELECTION BOARD RECORD

Replying to Miller's Criticism, He Tells How He Had Nesbit Law Repealed.

Louis P. Aloe, discussing the speech of Victor J. Miller Tuesday night about the fact that "more light might be thrown on Mr. Aloe's record as a member of the Election Board," said:

"My service on that board is one of my proudest boasts. When I was a member, the infamous Nesbit law was in operation, which had the effect at that time of placing two Democrats and only one Republican on the board. Minority representation was not a good thing. It was at a time when Harry B. Hawes and the Democratic machinery which he and others sponsored were in control in St. Louis.

"The Republican party had won no victory of consequence in St. Louis in years prior to my membership on the board, but while I was there, it elected a whole State ticket.

"I drafted a bill for a change in the law to provide many improvements, notably the bipartisan complexion of the board as it exists today, with two Democrats and two Republicans. I went before the Legislature with a delegation and had the Nesbit law repealed. In recognition of the work I did, the Republican City Central Committee passed a resolution commending me 'for splendid public service' and endorsing my work. There is nothing in my entire record of service on that board of which I am not proud to stand upon."

SCHOOL ROW REVIVED IN UNIVERSITY CITY

Harmony Plans Given Set-Back by Indorsement of Woman for Board.

Desire of various groups in University City to unite in support of four men candidates for the School Board of that large suburb, and avoid a recurrence of the dissension in the board, which came to a head last spring, seems to have struck a snag, in view of the indorsement of a woman for one of the vacancies by the University
City League of Women Voters.

No organization has been formed in behalf of the four men, but discussion has tended to center on them as the best way to eliminate factional differences. Two candidates reside in one ward and each of the others in one of the other two wards. Each was asked to run by petition by several hundred ward neighbors.

Men Indorsed for the Board.

They are Alfred Fairbank, a broker, of 6612 Watson, at the nue, and John M. Atkinson, an attorney and former member of the board, of 6900 Cornell avenue,
for full three-year terms; Roy C.
Sutton, a salesman, of 6274 Cates avenue, for two years of an unexpired term; and Henry V. Vachon, a salesman, of 4257 Vernon place, for an unexpired term of one year.
The unexpired terms are those of Edward M. Read Jr., president of the board, and C. L. Fisher, who resigned, effective March 20.

Terms of Luther T. Ward and Mrs. Frederick Britton will expire.
Lewis E. Balsam and Mrs. Viola
Jones will continue in office. Mrs.
Britton and Mrs. Jones were on one side of the controversy of last spring; Ward and Balsam were on the other, it is said.

The League of Women Voters indorsed the candidacy of Mrs. Lewis
G. Todd of 428 Melville avenue, who is regarded by other candidates
as being on the side of the present women members. The other candidates were invited to the league's meeting. But Mrs. Todd had been indorsed before they arrived, one of them declared.

Arguments in Harmony Plea.

The time when University City will need more schools is approaching, and this fact is couched with little pleas for harmony. Supporters of the four men candidates say that there is no reason for electing a woman to one of the places, as there is one woman who will remain on the board, giving the board the same proportion of female membership as that of St.
Louis. Supporters of Mrs. Todd argue that the women are entitled to more representation.

No candidates have been filed formally, the time for filing petitions of voters for this purpose expiring March 19. The election will be April 7, entirely on nonpartisan lines.

SIMONS TAKES OATH AS ACTING PRESIDENT OF GERMANY
Successor to Late Friedrich Ebert Omits "So Help Me God" From Oath.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, March 12.—Dr. Walter Simons took the oath as acting President of the German republic to succeed the late Friedrich Ebert. Like Ebert, Simons
did not add the "So help me God,"
which is left optional in the oath
as prescribed by the Constitution.
The communists refrained from boycotting the ceremony and many benches on the extreme right of the chamber also were empty.

The acting President, in a short speech, promised to hand over the office unshaken to his successor after administering it with impartiality. He spoke feelingly of his predecessor, whose fidelity he intended to emulate.

AFTER THE SHOW

Where, at the automobile show,
was the crowd the thickest?
Where was it conspicuously a buying crowd? What car was most referred to as the standard of comparison?

The answer is emphatic only because the St. Louis automobile buying public has so emphatically expressed the Universal Preference for Buick.

In the St. Louis Show

As in the National Shows, Buick again held first place in the attention of the public.

Why? Because the public knows in advance what to expect at a Buick Exhibit. They are not drawn by idle curiosity. First, they come because their visit gives them a primarily they come because each year

they find how incredibly higher Buick

CALLS BUSINESS MAN COMMUNITY MILKER

Head of U. S. Chamber, in Addresses, Says He Can Be an Asset, However.

The proposition that the business man, often "a great asset to himself and a total loss to everybody else," may be a tremendous asset to "everybody else" if he can be made to "think community-wise," was set forth in two addresses and several conferences here today by Richard F. Grant, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Grant described business men as largely "community milkers" with no thought of feeding the "community cow." In a brief talk at a breakfast given by 35 members of the national chamber at Hotel Jefferson. At a luncheon of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce he said business men have "one eye on a balance sheet and the other on a golf ball."

View of Business Man.

"A large proportion of the problems of today are purely economic," he said at the luncheon. "Business men are business men because they have the ability to measure facts and reach conclusions. The conclusions must be approximately true or they will automatically cease to be business men. The same qualities which make them business men will see us through most of our community and national difficulties."

"How can we get business men to clean up the messes their ability creates? How can we get them to function community-wise? That is the problem confronting us. If we can get them to see in the community something more than their opportunity—if we can give them a community-sense—then they will get a national sense and think in terms of the nation's good."

Objective of Chamber.

This, Grant said, was one objective of the United States Chamber of Commerce, which acted also as an agency for the business men who already had learned to think nation-wide. He pictured a "congressman confronted by a volume 23-inches thick on a question calling for his vote and remarked, 'They really need the help of someone who can tell disinterestedly and accurately what the essentials of those questions are, in the best minds of industry.'"

"They don't want the help of the average business man. They will tell you that they never see the average business man in Washington except when he comes to say, 'Don't do it to me; do it to him.' The average business man never takes an interest in government until someone steps on his toes."

The consolidation process in railroads was pointed out as one result of a consideration of transportation by the organization in 1923. He said that the chamber had docketed other questions of paramount importance not only to the business and industrial world but to the general public for research, discussion and voting by 800,000 business men, in the near future.

They included the question of whether the State inheritance tax should be abandoned in favor of bank, controversy, and the future of the Federal Reserve System, if it has a future. He remarked that the Federal Reserve charters expire in 1934, and within a year or two means of retaining its benefits must be devised.

Domestic Distribution.

The principal and most immediate problem to be taken up was that of domestic distribution. "There is nothing under the sun more wasteful than distribution in the United States," he said. "The mere announcement that it was to be taken up brought 300 men to Washington from all parts of the country. We do not yet know what will come out of this conference, but one conclusion it probably will reach is that many things which now are prohibited by law lie really in the public interest."

WIFE OF DAVISON ESTATE TO SON WHO CHOSE LAW CAREER
$100,000 To Be Distributed Be-

Death of Widow.
NEW YORK, March 12.—Henry P. Davison, one of the partners of J. P. Morgan & Co., who died
May 6, 1922, left total assets of $5,111,548, according to a transfer tax appraisal filed in the Surrogate's Court at Mineola, L. I., yesterday.

This approximate estimates
made by the financier's friends shortly after his death. It was said at that time he was worth about $8,000,000. In addition to this he was reputed to have outlived $2,000,000 of life insurance, making $10,000,000 to be distributed after his death. Davison's will was filed for probate almost three years ago, but accurate figures on his estate were not then available. As disclosed at that time, the residue of the estate goes to his widow in trust for life. The figures filed yesterday place this at $6,522,884.

Upon Mrs. Davison's death, as also was revealed when the will was filed, $4,500,000 of this will go to F. Trubee Davison, the eldest son, who, with his father's approval, turned his back on a financial career and chose law and politics. The large bequest to him was specified so he could work out this career without the care of providing for himself and his family.

The remainder of the trust fund will be divided equally upon the mother's death among the three other children, Henry P. Jr., Mrs.
Ariemus L. Gates and Frances Davison.

DOMINIONS LINE UP WITH BRITAIN AGAINST PROTOCOL

Chamberlain Makes Announcement of Stand in Outline of London's Objections.

ALREADY DISARMED,
DELEGATE STATES

Position Does Not Mean That Country Is Not in Harmony With Purposes,
He Adds.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, March 12.—Speaking to a chamber so closely packed that there was scarcely breathing space, Austen Chamberlain, British Secretary of Foreign Affairs, delivered his long heralded discourse on the Geneva protocol for security and disarmament before the Council of the League of Nations today.

Foreign Minister Benes of Czechoslovakia opened the session by announcing that at the conclusion of the discussion he would introduce a resolution concerning the protocol.

One of the most important features of Chamberlain's address, which outlined the British objections to the protocol, was added by him at the last minute. It was that telegraphic communication with the British dominions and India showed that Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the Union of South Africa, and India, were also unable to accept the protocol. He said he was not yet in possession of the views of the Irish Free State.

Says Britain Has Disarmed.
After emphasizing the sympathy that existed throughout the British Empire with any effort to improve the international machinery for world peace, Chamberlain said that successive administrations in Great Britain, with the full approval of the self-governing dominions, not only had in theory favored arbitration, which was one of the features of the protocol, but had practiced it. They had not only preached disarmament, but had actually disarmed to the limit of national safety.

They had taken a full share in creating and supporting the League of Nations and the Permanent Court of International Justice, while the immense sacrifices they had made in the cause of general security were matters of recent history.

Suggestion for Amendment.
If, therefore, continued Chamberlain, after consulting her dominions and India, England saw insuperable objections to signing and ratifying the protocol in its present shape, this was not because she felt herself out of harmony with the purposes the protocol was intended to serve or was opposed in principle to plans for clarifying the meaning of the League of Nations covenant or strengthening its provisions.

"Amendment and interpretation may in themselves be desirable," added the British Foreign Secretary, "but His Majesty's Government cannot believe that the protocol as it stands provides a suitable method of attempting that task."

For Special Arrangements.
After detailing the British objections to the protocol, Chamberlain said that since the general provisions of the covenant could not be stiffened with advantage, and since "the extreme cases" with which the League might have to deal probably would affect certain nations or groups of nations more than others, the British Government believed the best way of dealing with the situation was with cooperation with the League of Nations, to supplement the covenant by making special arrangements in order to meet special needs.
"That these arrangements," he continued, "should be purely defensive in character; that they should be framed in the spirit of the covenant, working in close harmony with the League and under its guidance, is manifest. And in the opinion of His Majesty's Government these objects can best be attained by knitting together the nations most immediately concerned and whose differences might lead to a renewal of strife, by means of treaties framed with the sole object of maintaining, as between themselves, an unbroken peace."

"Within its limits no quicker remedy for our present ills can easily be found or any surer safeguard against future calamities."

On Compulsory Arbitration.
Dealing with the insistence of the protocol that every possible dispute should be settled by arbitration, Secretary Chamberlain said the framers of the League covenant must have felt that the objections to universal and compulsory arbitration might easily outweigh its theoretical advantages. He remarked that last year Great Britain made a reservation that, so far as Great Britain is concerned, greatly limits the universal application of the compulsory principle.

Chamberlain added that far from diminishing the objections to compulsory arbitration, he increased them, because of the weakening of those reservations in clause XV of the covenant which were designed to prevent any interference by the League in matters of domestic jurisdiction.

References to United States.
Chamberlain made several references to the United States. He believed the whole world would agree that the League of Nations in its present shape was not the league designed by the framers of the covenant, who doubtless contemplated the difficulties that might arise from the non-inclusion of a certain number of states within the circle of membership.
"But they never supposed," he added, "that among the states would be found so many of the most powerful nations of the world—least of all did they foresee that one of them would be the United States."

Views Protocol as Weapon.
The British secretary argued that it was a great mistake "to add to the liabilities already incurred," without taking into account the weakening of the league through the nonadhesion of some powers. He insisted the economic sanctions provided for in the protocol, if simultaneously directed by the world against a State which was not economically self-sufficient, would be a weapon of incalculable power.

It was true, he averred, that the

RETIRED MERCHANT FOUND DEAD FROM GAS

Note Expressing Intention of "Ending It All."

The body of Gustave Hassendeubel, 69 years old, a retired commission merchant, was found in the bath room of his home at 3447 Halliday avenue at 6 a. m. today. The gas jet was turned on and he had died apparently from gas poisoning.

In his room relatives found a note in which he said he had been ill and despondent and expressed his intention of "ending it all." Formerly he was in the commission business with his brothers, Frank and Philip Hassendeubel. When he retired the company was reorganized and is now the Hassendeubel Grocery Co.

Hassendeubel was a nephew of Col. Franz Hassendeubel, who was killed at Vicksburg and after whom a G. A. R. post was named here. Besides his brothers Hassendeubel, who was not married, is survived by three sisters, the Misses Emily and Bertha Hassendeubel, and Mrs. Anna Burmeister. Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday at a funeral establishment at 3025 Lafayette avenue. The body will be cremated.

League's work is going on beneficially and full of promise, "though the United States remains in friendly aloofness." He said "individual Americans have helped freely, both by sympathy and service, while the generosity of the American public has greatly aided some League causes. It might be said with truth that the problems which even the weakened League has had to face have never overstrained its machinery."

Chamberlain emphasized, however, that powerful economic communities existed outside the League and although an aggressor State doubtless would suffer, there was no presumption that it would be crushed or even that it would suffer most.

Chamberlain disliked articles VII and VIII of the protocol which prohibit preparation during arbitration proceedings. He said these articles meant that an aggressor was at liberty to select his own date for picking a quarrel and that before that date he might distribute his armies as he pleased. Supposedly the troops of his intended victim would be in the wrong position for defense but there they must be kept or the victim might be charged with breach of the protocol. He deemed this an intolerable situation which could never survive.

INDICTMENT AGAINST NEGRO, ALLEGED SLAYER OF TAILOR

Arrest of Suspect Was Caused by Widow of Slain Man, Two Months After Crime.

An indictment, charging murder in the first degree, was returned yesterday by the grand jury against Otis Jefferson, 29 years old, a negro, living at 2717 Franklin avenue, identified by Mrs. Reuben Pass as the slayer of her husband, outside of Pass' tailor shop at 117 North Jefferson avenue, the night of Jan. 2.

For the past several days Mrs. Pass and other witnesses have been before the grand jury, which has endeavored to piece together the circumstance under which Pass was shot to death by a negro customer, whom he followed outside, when the negro walked away with a new overcoat.

As has been told, Mrs. Pass retained an image of the negro's face, "light-skinned, with high cheek bones," and two months later caused Jefferson's arrest, when the negro chanced to board a Jefferson line car, on which she was a passenger. The prisoner has persistently maintained his innocence, despite the woman's positive identification. A piece of evidence against him is an old army coat, which the slayer left in the tailor shop, when he donned the new coat. This has been identified by Jefferson's mother as belonging to her son.

MAN, 82, OBTAINS DIVORCE STEPSON'S EATING UP IN SUIT

Belleville Resident Charged Wife Left Him After Objecting to Son
Calling for Meals Every Sunday.

Albert Kabureck, 82 years old, of Belleville, yesterday obtained a divorce from Mrs. Mahulday Mayle Kabureck, 60, through a jury in the St. Clair County Circuit Court. Kabureck charged his wife with desertion stating that she left him when he objected to a son by her former marriage coming to his home for two meals each Sunday. He said the stepson ate two meals each Sunday at his home for five years.

Mrs. Kabureck contested the suit, declaring her husband told her repeatedly that he wished he had died on the day he married her and that he wished he was single again.

They were married Dec. 26, 1916 and he charged she left him Aug. 27, 1922. He is making his home with a daughter in Belleville and she has been living in St. Louis.

OPEN VERDICT IN AUTO DEATH Unidentified Driver Fled After Hitting W. C. Miller, 74.

An open verdict of homicide was returned by a Coroner's jury today in the death of William C. Miller, 74 years old, killed Tuesday evening by a speeding motorist who did not stop to assist his victim. Miller, who was employed as a houseman at 522 North Newstead avenue, was run down as he crossed in front of 4235 Washington boulevard and almost instantly killed.

OSBORNE WOOD SAILS ON FREIGHTER WITH $2

Before Starting for U. S. He Invests in Many Spanish
Lottery Tickets.

(Copyright, 1928.)
CADIZ, Spain, March 12.—After a two weeks' tour de luxe of Spain, the bills for which totaled more than $200 a day, Osborne C. Wood sailed from Cadiz harbor today aboard a homeward freighter with only $2 in his pocket.

His bill for the last five days at the Hotel Francis of Cadiz was paid by his friends. His passage to Tampa, Fla., aboard the United States Shipping Board freighter West Chetac was granted by the London office of the Shipping Board.

Wood's gala trip through Spain after his hasty departure from France, where unpaid checks for $5,000 francs ($1750) in alleged gaming debts resulted in charges against him by the Biarritz Casino, has been the sensation of the Spanish newspapers for the last fortnight.

Occupied the Royal Suite.
His quarters—generally the royal suite—in exclusive hotels of the five principal cities of Spain, have been stormed by reporters seeking interviews with the youth they called "the world's greatest spender."

Daily stories, with photographs of the young American, emblazoned front pages of newspapers in cities he visited. His itinerary included three visits to Madrid, two to San Sebastian and trips to Barcelona, Valencia and Cadiz.

Because of his carefree liberality, he was tagged by a squad of bootblacks, beggars, newsboys and lottery ticket vendors, with ready smiles for their patron and reader palms for his excessively large tips. He purchased many tickets for the Government lottery which will be drawn today a few hours after his departure.

"Too bad the drawing comes after my sailing," Wood remarked.

Feels His Luck Has Changed.
"I am very sorry the present Spanish Government prohibits gambling, because I feel my luck has changed in my favor and I am sure I could clean up if the casinos were open. Then I'd be able to extend my tour to Africa, instead of returning to America aboard this freighter."

His superstitious belief in his luck has become almost a religion to Wood. He still is confident that the luck which made him a fortune in Wall street, then turned against him, again will turn in his favor. Just before boarding the West Chetac, he astonished an old woman from whom he bought another lottery ticket by giving her $2 for a 50-cent ticket. He asked a friend to be sure to get a list of the winning numbers and send them to him by wireless at sea if he was a winner.

Asked why he did not go to a cheaper hotel in his last days in Cadiz and try to save money for his return to America, Wood replied:

"I never worry about financial questions. It's always possible to find more if you know where to look. Don't you worry about me I live as I please and my one thrill in life is to spend money. In fact, I much prefer to spend it than to make it."

"I'll be very glad to put my foot down on American soil," Wood said. "I have had more than a year in Europe and I find everything on the continent is on the downgrade, but they surely have fine champagne."

Everyone aboard the West Chetac, from Capt. George Lund down to the smokiest stoker, looked forward with the greatest interest to their trip with Wood aboard. But Lund absolutely forbade Wood from bringing liquor aboard.

Mr. Wood, my officers and my crew will do anything to help you pass the 20-day trip," the captain told him. "I will even give you my own cabin if you wish. But no booze goes aboard my boat."

"You might as well go in training now for your arrival in America."

The West Chetac, a ship of 5427 tons, is one of the cleanest and staunchest of the Shipping Board vessels. Wood's quarters are a large, airy cabin amidship, which the captain ordered painted and cleaned especially for Wood. The cabin has a large porthole on the starboard side, running water and an electric fan.

As the vessel's maximum speed is only nine knots, the ship will not arrive at Tampa before March 23 or 30.

High winds prevented the scheduled sailing of the freighter Wednesday night.

Uncertain as to Future.

Wood frankly does not know what his plans will be when he arrives in Tampa. He expects friends to meet him there. Otherwise, he said, "I will go to Palm Beach, where I surely have friends who will help me get started."

He refused to say whether he would play Wall street again. It is understood Wood made over a large part of his Wall street winnings to his wife, Mrs. Katherine Thompson Wood, who announced shortly after leaving Wood in Paris and returning to America, that she would sue for divorce. Wood became extremely taciturn and depressed whenever his wife's name is mentioned.

GIRL SUES NATATORIUM FOR INJURY WHILE IN SWIMMING

Asks $10,000 for Elbow Fracture Caused, She Says, by Boys' Prank in Lorelei Pool.

Suit for $10,000 was filed yesterday by Cornelia Locke, 15-year-old daughter of Mrs. D. G. Locke of the Gateworth Hotel, against the Laurel Realty Co. for injury suffered at the Lorelei Natatorium July 22, last. It is alleged that while the girl was getting on a rope which separated the deep water from the shallow four or five boys intentionally shook her off. In falling her elbow struck an iron hook and was fractured. She asserts that the same boys had been annoying other swimmers in the pool, and the defendant company, which operates the place, was negligent in failing to prevent their pranks.

Why Conroys Alone Give Conroy Values

1. Conroys is an independent institution, it has no outstanding obligations—or in plain English, it does not owe a penny.
2. Conroys has no common or preferred stock upon which handsome dividends must be paid.
3. Conroys buy for cash (often in advance) which results in a very obvious advantage to you.
4. Conroys are not owned or controlled by one or two factories—hence, every instrument must meet our rigid specifications or "back it goes."
5. Conroys have the pick of the piano industry—manufacturers invariably prefer cash customers.
6. Conroys unusual financial strength aids you in many ways—such as safety, satisfaction, values, prices, terms, etc.
7. No carrying charges are included in Conroy contracts.

PART TWO.

VOTE OF 170,000
TOMORROW LIKELY

Polls to Open at 6 A. M. and Close at 7 P. M. in Election to Select Party Nominees.

CITY-WIDE VOTE
FOR 14 ALDERMEN

Writing In Names of Candidates of Other Parties
Will Result in Invalidating Vote.

Balloting in the primary election tomorrow, when the Republican, Democratic and Socialist parties will select nominees for Mayor, Comptroller and 14 members of the Board of Aldermen from the uneven numbered wards, will begin at 6 a. m. with the opening of the polls in the city's 624 precincts. The polls will close at 7 p. m.

There are contests in both the Republican and Democratic ranks for the mayoralty nomination, but the three parties have only one candidate each seeking nomination for Comptroller. Fourteen Democratic candidates for Aldermen have no opposition, but in the Republican field 51 candidates are seeking the 14 seats. Only seven Socialists have filed for Aldermanic nominations.

120,000 Likely to Vote.
George Eigel, chairman of the Election Board, estimated today that 120,000 votes would be cast in the Republican primary and 50,000 in the Democratic primary, out of a total registration of 258,905. More than 1,000,000 ballots have been printed, more than one of each party ballot for every registered voter.

The vote on all candidates will be city-wide. Aldermen must reside in the ward which they seek to represent, but are elected by a vote of the entire city.

The municipal election will be held on April 7. Voters must ask for the party ballot they desire to vote when entering the polling place. The primary is considered a contest with one name in each party and one must vote for Republicans, Democrats or Socialists. The vote may not be cast for Mayor in one party and other offices in another.

Cannot Write in Names.
The voter will then scratch all candidates for each office except the one for whom he desires to vote. If more than one name is left unscratched for any one office, it invalidates the vote on that office. If the name of a Democrat is written in on the Republican ballot or vice-versa, it has the same effect, namely, of invalidating the vote for the particular office.

The ballots are long strips in the primary instead of the "tickets" form including all parties, which is employed in elections.

Republican voters must express a preference in 15 offices on the ticket, as there are contests for Alderman in each ward, and for the office of Mayor. Democrats need only scratch two candidates for Mayor and leave a third name untouched, since there are no contests on the remainder of the ticket.

The Socialist ballot, no matter how touched, inasmuch as there are no contests at all.

A voter, known to be of one political faith, who asks for the ticket of another party, may lawfully be challenged and required to make affidavit that he or she intends to vote in the election for the candidates of the party for whose ballot he or she has just asked. However, there is no way to compel a voter to so vote in the election even if he does make such an affidavit, since he has always the privilege of changing his mind.

Plans for Balloting.
In the primary which preceded the mayoralty election in 1931, the Republicans cast approximately 120,000 votes in nominating Mayor Kiel for a third term. Democrats cast approximately 25,000 in nominating James W. Byrnes. The Socialist vote, with no contest on, was negligible.

The Election Board has made full preparation to see that all balloting is done fairly. Eigel said that 275 Deputy Commissioners, sworn in by the board, would be available for duty in precincts where questions were raised. Members of the board and these deputies will visit polling places throughout the day to see that the orders of the board are being carried out.

The primary usually determines what candidates will go before the electorate in the election but independent candidates may file for

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight for the public welfare, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Working for Smoke Abatement.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE war which the Post-Dispatch has waged on the smoke nuisance in St. Louis and vicinity has paved the way for a solution of this problem by educating the public to a point where they now know that the amount of smoke which we now have, is unnecessary and is very costly in dollars and in health.

It is primarily because the public has now been sufficiently aroused, that the Associated Engineering Societies of St. Louis has assumed some of the burden of helping to remove or at least reduce this nuisance.

An open meeting of the Associated Engineering Societies was held on Wednesday evening, March 4, at which a number of organizations were invited to attend and participate in the discussion.

The result of this meeting was such that the Associated Engineering Societies feel justified in proceeding along the lines indicated by the meeting and a strong representative committee of engineers and business men will be appointed in the very near future to make recommendations as to ways and means of reducing or eliminating the smoke nuisance.

We are very pleased, indeed, to see the publicity and support you have given us in starting this work, as is shown by the numerous articles and editorials which have been printed in the Post-Dispatch in the last few days in regard to our activities.

On behalf of this organization I desire to thank you for this consideration and assure you that the Associated Engineering Societies will actively work on this problem and co-operate with all existing agencies for the solution of this problem.

J. L. HAMILTON,
Pres. Associated Engineering
Societies of St. Louis.

Speeding by School Buildings.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

FOUR new electric traffic signal lights are now erected and in operation at the corner of Sarah street and McPherson avenue. These will check to some degree the speed mania from running through this street, murdering women and children. Until sufficient time has elapsed for these law violators to warn each other about these new signals, we parents will have to guard our children to and from the Marquette School.

Will these fiendish law destroyers please notify us which school building they intend to speed by now?

PARENT.

Advice to a Wife.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

DO NOT be discouraged about the apparent nonenforcement of prohibition, my dear "M. L. K." It's getting better. Look at the pictures and notices in the papers. It's true, many of the St. Louis police are against it, but many are with us. Don't relax, dear. Just keep still and be hopeful. Don't nag. Your husband will probably learn from looking at disgraceful examples of drunkenness.

SYMPATHETICALLY.

Drainage of Forest Park.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

YOUR paper has done great work in advocating the appointment of the Citizens' Bond Committee. This committee has been hamstrung. They should be allowed to select their own experts free from supervision and direction of the Board of Public Service. As an example, we are advised that there will be 25 feet of water in Forest Park. Is there any member of the committee who knows whether 20-foot tubes would not be large enough instead of 18 feet? Forest Park contains about 10 buildings and roads. Eighty per cent of the water shed of the River Des Peres north of Oakland avenue is built up.

Starting the work upstream, increasing the thickness of the concrete from 6 inches to 14 inches is what business men call inefficiency. The political engineers call it ignorance. Either term is applicable to the River Des Peres work. The sewer to the Northwest St. Louis factory works, which your paper wrote up extensively and Noite denounced openly, was also handled and built by the political engineers of the city hall.

TAXPAYER.

As to Sunday Closing.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IN answer to M. L. K. in re prohibition, which, in my opinion, is a reprobation to the whole U. S. A.: Let the people have their beer again and they won't want any "hoohoo." Also, I believe that strict closing rules should be enforced; also on Sundays, even the drug stores except for prescriptions, and the confectioneries or strict watch should be made, as some druggists and confectioneries and ice cream parlors are "blind tigers" as well as the so-called beverage parlors.

Down with prohibition as it is now. Beer and light wines should be allowed.

ONE WHO KNOWS.

TOMORROW'S PRIMARY

The most important thing in tomorrow's primary election is the number of votes that will be cast. Never in the history of St. Louis have there been stronger reasons for voters to go to the polls, both in the primary and the election. There never was a greater need for an honest, efficient administration in the municipal government. The bond issue, the problems of urban transportation and traffic, bridge and terminal facilities, require a man of capacity and integrity in the Mayor's office and men of integrity and capacity in the Board of Aldermen.

The primary election will determine the character and capacity of the candidates in the general election. The citizens of St. Louis will get the kind of administration and character of Mayor and Aldermen that they want. The choice depends wholly upon their votes, and their votes will decide whether the candidates for Mayor and Board of Aldermen will be chosen by the will of the few or by the will of all the voters.

The Post-Dispatch has opposed definitely only one candidate in the mayoralty list. That candidate is Victor J. Miller. Mr. Miller makes good promises and has plenty of energy. But his record proves that he is woefully deficient in judgment and reliability, respect for law and the legal limitations of power. We believe that his record in office and on the platform proves his unfitness for the responsibilities and duties of Mayor.

Beyond this, the Post-Dispatch has touched upon the character, capacity and records of the other candidates. There are differences in their qualifications, by reason of proven capacity and experience. But all of them are good citizens of more or less capacity, and with the light that has been thrown upon them through the press and on the platform, voters of all parties can make judicious choices.

There was a paragraph in a speech of William L. Igoe, one of the Democratic candidates for Mayor, which so aptly stated the issue before the voters and the duty of the voters, that we quote it here:

There is no such thing as a Republican taxpayer or a Democratic or independent taxpayer. What increases or decreases taxes is not the election of a Republican or a Democrat, as such, but the honest, efficient and economical administration of your municipal affairs. After all, only a few persons get positions in the city government. The vast majority of the people remain after someone's election to the mayoralty exactly what they were before: that is, taxpayers, those who pay the bills. The only benefit they ask, or expect, as a result of an election, is clean, careful, conservative expenditure of public money for public purposes. If they get that, they will profit by a saving of their taxes and a betterment of their municipal government.

This is a fair and complete statement of the issues presented to the voters in the primary and the election and of their responsibility and duty in voting. The prime duty of every voter is to go to the polls and vote in accord with his judgment and conviction. The failure to do this will turn over the election by default to the professional politicians and spoilsmen.

TRAFFIC SAFETY AS AN ISSUE.

Mr. Aloe has raised the subject of traffic killings and traffic law enforcement as an issue in the campaign. At a recent meeting he deplored the lack of a "clamorous" public sentiment against "killings by automobiles" as if fatalities had been accepted as a matter of course and unavoidable.

One reason why there has been no more clamor probably is the impression that clamor is futile and that the authorities are doing all that may be expected of them with present forces. It is gratifying to note that at least one candidate does not accept that view and believes that the office of Mayor can be more effectively employed in the curbing of the speed demon, the drunken driver and the jackal who speeds from the scene of an accident in which he was involved.

Mr. Aloe, analyzing the statistics and causes of street killings, voices his belief in the efficacy of a more aggressive policy on the part of the Mayor. He believes in special measures against intoxicated drivers, in organized campaigns of education for drivers, pedestrians and parents, co-operation with the Safety Council in reducing accidents and removal from office of City Judges who set aside fines of motorists who jeopardize human life.

As Mr. Aloe asserts, if 183 people a year were killed by bandits or wild beasts the citizenry would be aroused. It would be aroused against auto killings if it could be shown a way to eliminate them. Aloe has pointed out what ought to be done.

To Mr. Dawes: They that keep Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep in the afternoon when the Senate is voting on a presidential appointment.

DEMOCRATIC ORGANIZATION PLANS.

The energetic Franklin D. Roosevelt has conceived the project of erecting something substantial on the Democratic political ruins of 1924. He would hold a conference of the various party leaders this summer to revitalize and strengthen the party organization. Suggestions received in reply to the proposal voice a belief in the necessity of a continuously functioning, year-round organization, a businesslike financial plan, co-operation between the national and state organizations, publicity for fundamental party policy and dissemination of current information.

Some such enterprise as Mr. Roosevelt's is apparently necessary for the continued existence of the party as an opponent to be reckoned with. The late election proved beyond a possibility of doubt that the mistakes, evils and corruptions of the Republican party are not a sufficient platform for Democratic success. Lack of adequate organization has been a chronic weakness of the Democrats, both nationally and in the states outside the solid South. The normally lean condition of the Democratic treasury is partly a testimony to the freedom of the party from big business domination. It is also evidence of lax organization and of a want of common party objective other than aspiration to office. With a common popular cause clearly established the party can safely rely on the small contributor.

How can such a cause be established? It is clear in the first place that the party must be liberal and progressive. There is no room in the field for two parties of conservatism and reaction. To give voice to liberalism is the next essential. Partisan accusation and vilification is not a convincing method. This is a day of scientific method, of research and exact information.

A Democratic information bureau, with trained traffic cop.

Investigators could speak eloquently and authoritatively for liberal and democratic policies as no contentious political committee chairman could do. "Mobilize facts" would be a good working motto for cultivating the liberal vote, not only during campaigns but from one election day to the next. Educate the public and it will be prepared to resist false and specious propaganda.

Senator Reed did a Shavian job on "Mr. Warren's Profession."

THE BYRNES BURLESQUE.

James W. Byrnes is not only having a bully time in his independent campaign for the Democratic mayoralty nomination, but he is adding to the gaiety of the city.

Mr. Byrnes decorates his serious arguments for a strictly business administration, untainted by machine control, with comic strips. His burlesque production, "The Candidates' Revue, or the Pollies of 1925," is a series of farcical features, with a change of bill every night.

Mr. Dieckmann's campaign reminds him of the once popular ditty, "Old Noah built himself an ark," when "the animals went in two by two, the elephant and the kangaroo." He has refrained so far from referring to the vote of the Monkey House district.

The campaign humorist flings jibes at the lawyers who try to camouflage legal learning and skill as executive capacity. He describes Lawyer Miller as the "whirling dervish" of law enforcement, who cannot tell sin from crime and would "cleanse the sins of the community with a policeman's club." Hocus-pocus, says Mr. Byrnes.

Judge Grimm is gently chided for singing "purity, purity," and adorning himself with angel's wings, while his campaign is being run by one of the cleverest politicians in St. Louis.

Mr. Byrnes has a loud guffaw for the candidates, referring to Aloe, Igoe and Grimm, who are apparently not on speaking terms with the machine politicians supporting them with might and main. He just cannot understand how these candidates can be so ignorant of their friends and backers. He seems to regard it as merely a temporary pre-election cold spell.

When Mr. Byrnes, however, scoffs at campaign promises as "bunk," and demands ideas instead of babble and blather, his humor goes beyond all political bounds. He becomes a dangerous scotchfellow, who would undermine the sacred structure of American politics.

Mr. Byrnes is doing good service. There is a savor of truth in his show and it supplies the saving grace which relieves the dullness of campaign oratory and averts the dangers of daily and nightly bouts in the political scramble.

During a typical French duel the other day one of the participants was accidentally wounded in the hand.

THE PARDON CAME TOO LATE.

The mental picture of Gen. Dawes arriving just a moment too late at the door of the Senate chamber with the deciding vote which would have saved Mr. Warren's nomination from defeat is not satisfactory. We had expected far better things of him.

The discipline of the Senate, the Republican party and important financial interests thus suffer severely because our Vice President does not live up to his reputation. It was quite in character that he should be absent when the Senate was voting on the nomination of the former Sugar Trust official for Attorney General. The dangerous situation quickly sensed by Republican leaders, the telephone call to Dawes to come and save the day, the mad taxicab ride of a mile, all are in tone and keeping with our expectations. The waiting elevator, the slowed-up proceedings, the little stops, designed to permit the Vice President to rush into the chamber, take the chair and cast the deciding vote, all these settings were admirable. For him to arrive after the show was over was inexcusable.

We are frankly disappointed. When his friends most needed to lean upon him, he was not there. He will have to do something more than smoke his pipe upside down and swear to restore himself to favor. As an efficiency expert in legislation he is a failure.

There are six Republican candidates for the Board of Aldermen in the Twenty-third Ward. We can speak confidently of one of them. Mr. Clinton E. Udell has served the city in the board for 10 years, since 1913, after serving on the Board of Freeholders, capably, intelligently and faithfully. His slogan is "He who serves his city best serves his party best." Mr. Udell has acted up to his slogan in useful public service.

SUFFERING SHAMROCKS.

Shades of Robert Emmet! Not since the shamrock was fabled by law to grow on Irish ground has such a frightful thing happened. Our own Department of Agriculture has not only refused admission to a thousand packages of shamrocks, but has ordered them deported to Ireland. And this almost on the very eve of St. Patrick's Day.

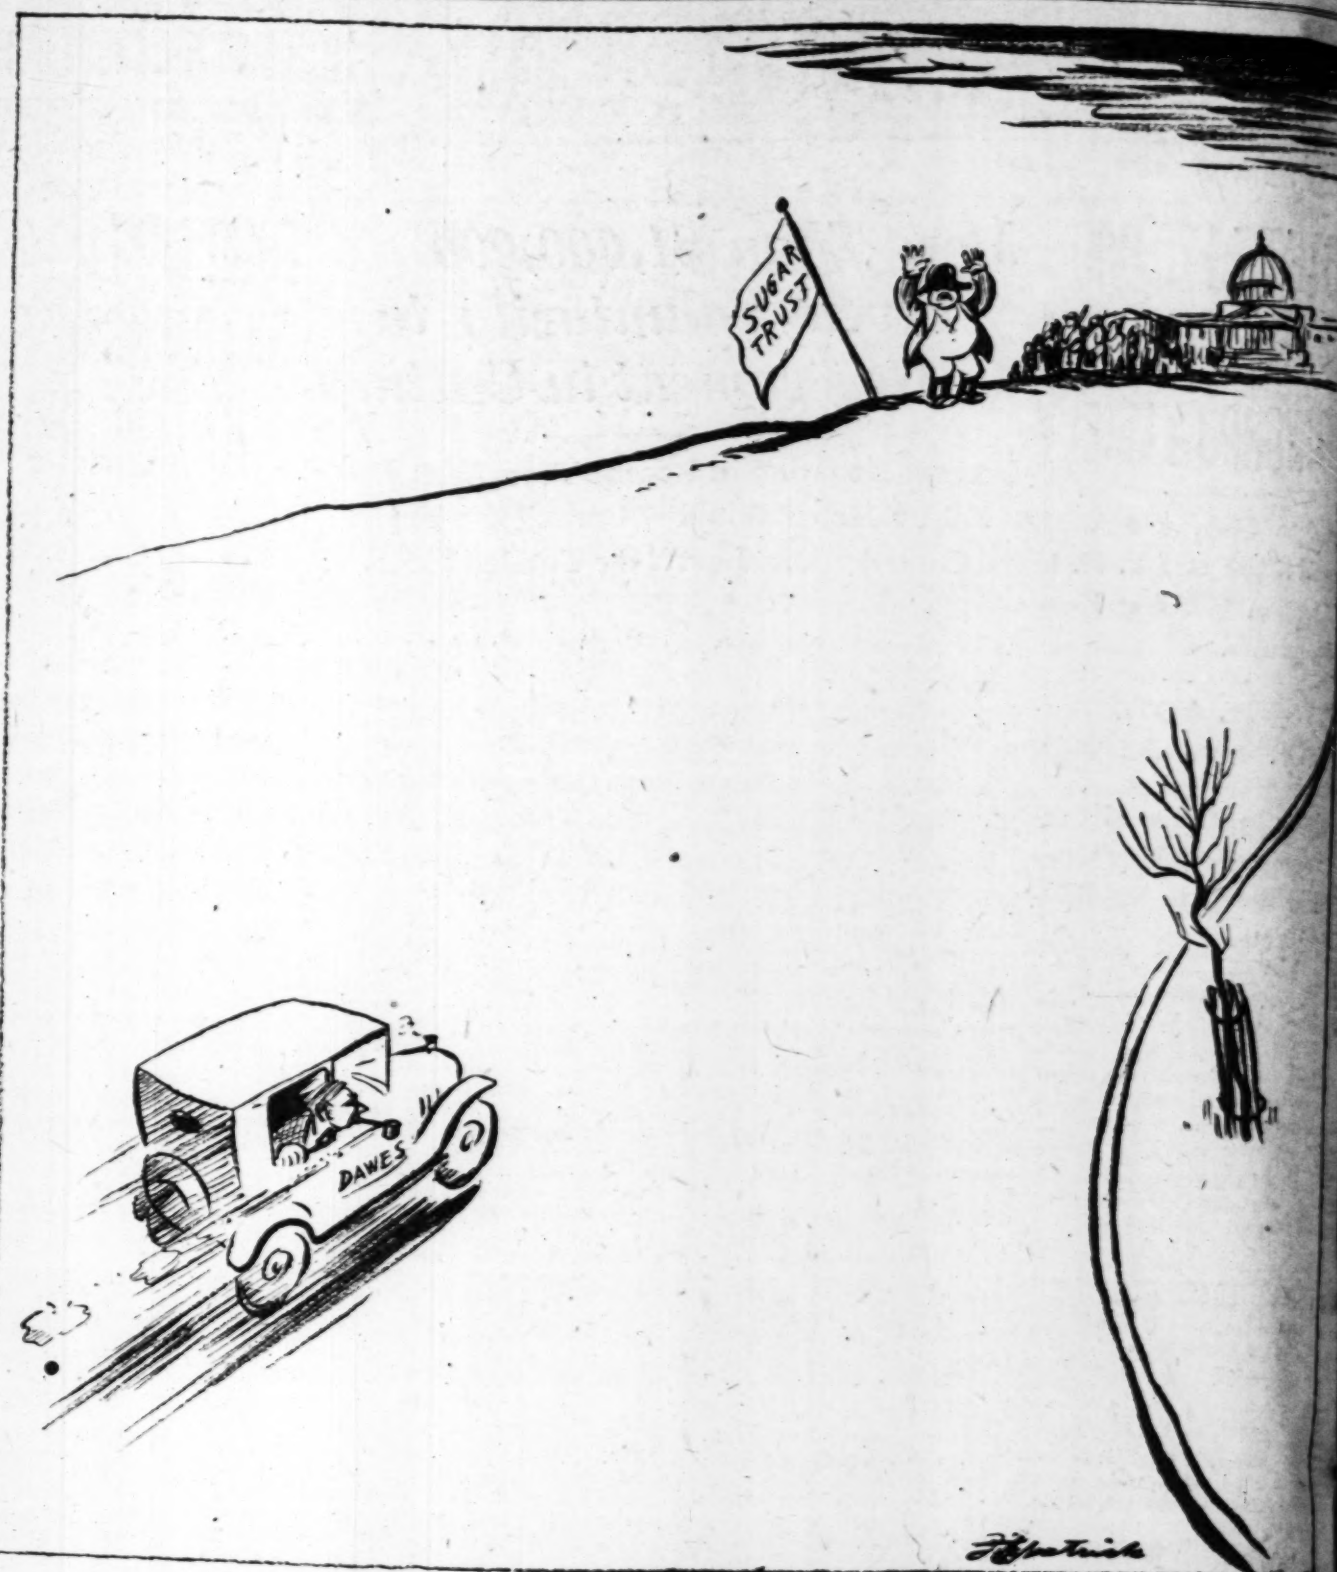

Boston, the home of Mayor Curley, the home of a hundred thousand fighting Irish, was the scene of this outrage, a fact which adds insult to injury. The same harbor which witnessed the Tea Party now washes the keel of the ship which carries the proud symbol of Erin back to the old sod.

Surely this was a matter for the State Department, and one, moreover, which should not have been taken without recalling Gen. Pershing from the West Indies and getting out the Home Guard. Instead, a mere regulation of the Department of Agriculture against the importation of living plants because of the danger of pests was the detonator which set off this bomb.

Has our Government forgotten that on such small things as, for example, the cackling of geese, whole empires depend? Is it too late to recall this mad decision? St. Patrick's Day and the Ides of March, be remembered, are perilously close together.

This is the time of year when nature, the great open spaces and the bounding deep invite the souls of well-heeled Teapot Dome witnesses.

Dawes' arrival just a few minutes too late was probably due to the villainy of some Democratic

MARSHAL GROUCHY ARRIVES AT WATERLOO.

THE MOUNTAIN WHIPPOORWILL.

Stephen Vincent Benet in The Century.
Swing your partners—up and down the middle!

Sashay now—oh, listen to that fiddle! Flapjacks flippin' on a red hot griddle. And hell broke loose, Hell broke loose.

Fire on the mountains, snakes in the grass. Satan's here a-bilin'—oh, Lordy, let him pass!

Go down Moses, set my people free. Pop goes the wilest th'ut the old Red Sea! Jonah sittin' on a hickory bough.

Up jumps a whale—an' where's yore prophet now? Rabbit in the pea-pod, possum in the pot.

Try an' stop my fiddle now my fiddle's gettin' hot! Whippoorwill singin' th'ut the mountain hush.

Whippoorwill shoutin' from the burnin' bush, Whippoorwill cryin' in the stable door. Sing tonight as yuh never sang before!

Hell's broke loose like a stompin' mountain shout. Sing till yuh bust the gold in yore throat! Hell's broke loose for forty miles aroun'!

Bound to stop yore music if yuh don't sing it down. Sing on the mountains, little whippoorwill! Sing to the valleys, an' slap 'em with a hili!

For I'm struttin' high as an eagle's quill, An' hell's broke loose. Hell's broke loose.

Hell's broke loose in Georgia! (Overheard in the monkey cage at Forest Park Zoo, one very hot day last summer.)

Spider Monkey: Gee, it's hot today! I wish I could peel off this warm fur; I'm almost roasted. That makes me wonder, too, why those people out there wear so many clothes this hot weather. Do they have to wear them?

Sapajou Monkey: Yes, their laws require them to wear some clothes, although they are not obliged to wear as many as they do. They dress that way because it is the custom, for with people custom is even stronger than law.

Spider Monkey: I saw a girl not long ago that I felt awful sorry for. She had a thick, heavy fur thing around her neck and must have suffered terribly. I suppose she must have committed some fearful crime and was required to wear that as a penalty; a most cruel punishment, I should say.

Sapajou Monkey: No, you are wrong there; she was wearing it of her own free will, because it was the fashion and considered the proper thing to do. Of course, she must have been tormented terribly with the heat, but with people, you know, comfort is always sacrificed to custom and style.

Spider Monkey: What is the matter with that man, now? He seems to be all choked up with smoke and I see it coming out of his mouth. What is that long black thing he is chewing on?

Sapajou Monkey: Yes, that is another one of their absurd customs, of which they have a great many. You see, he draws the smoke into his mouth and then blows it right out again. Don't ask me why he does it, because I couldn't give you any reason, and I doubt very much if he could. It looks silly to us, of course, but a great many people do it. It's funny, too, I just heard him tell another man that the reason he came out to the park was that he wanted to get some fresh air, and I'm curious to know how he expects to get it.

Spider Monkey: You know, I've often wondered why we are kept penned up this way, and why so many people come to look at us.

Sapajou Monkey: I have considered that quite a bit, too, and I believe I have discovered the reason. You see, they, as well as we, belong to the same class in the animal world. The only difference is, people live largely an artificial life, while we live a perfectly natural one, just as we were all intended to do. For that reason, I think they have come to the conclusion that we are creatures of superior intelligence, and they think if they study our ways long enough that they may learn many things to their advantage.

Spider Monkey: Maybe so; here's hoping they do.

Some Day the Silver Chord Will Break.

A Practical Meditation.
By Rev. H. C. Offerman.

We may have abused our advantages, but the day of reckoning will come. The kindness of others, and consistently so, but you will be rudely shaken out of your ingratitude at some moment in the future.

You may have bluffed the world with respect to your ability, but the time of your exposure is bound to come.

You may have abused your health, growing years will exact the toll. You may be riding on the crest of pleasures and may expect them to last forever, but you'll have to pay dearly for any excesses by and by.

You may have made a reputation in youth, and are traveling on that without new effort, but watch out, you are traveling for a fall.

You may be living beyond your income, and managing somehow, each year, to pull through, but the year will come when you can't pull through.

You may go through life selfishly, treating brutally upon everyone, but there is a day when the tables are turned.

"Some day the silver chord will break."

SPRING.

March 13.

The bulbs from the warm earth are peeping. As I listen I hear the birds sing. The thermometer registers 80; I'm satisfied now, it is spring.

March 19.

The fruit trees are ready to blossom. The wild ducks fly Northward again; That's mighty cool wind from the South-land.

It looks like we may have some rain.

March 20.

I take down the rake and get busy. I sharpen the spade and the hoe; I get a good start on the garden. Then down comes two inches of snow.

March 21.

I put on my old winter sweater. Some coal in the furnace I fill; The mercury drops down to zero. Oh, yes! It's the first day of spring.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

RUSSIA'S SHIFTING CAPITAL.

From the Springfield Republican.

IN the course of the controversy over the report of the British Labor representative who visited Russia, one critic dismissed the question as an issue with the declaration that "we have nothing to learn from Russia." A country like England, which has so long enjoyed parliamentary government naturally has much more to teach than to learn, yet some of the novelties introduced by the Soviets may be useful for Russia even if not needed elsewhere.

One of these is the practice of shifting the capital from one part of the country to the other in order to interest the people and make them familiar with the workings of the government. This, in the Caucasus, is now enjoying this honor, and the Federal Parliament opened a six days' session there on Wednesday amid a display of unbounded enthusiasm.

It is an original way of taking the government to the people, and is the more justified because in theory at least Soviet Russia is a confederacy rather than a nation. Of late even increased stress has been put on the local republics and foreign countries have been not a little exercised because some of these have been so organized as logically to require annexations to make them complete, as for example in the case of the Moldavian republic for which Bessarabia, now held by Rumania, is "unredeemed" territory.

For a confederacy it is wholly logical to hold the meeting of Parliament in different parts of the country in turn, and however inconvenient this might be as a permanent constitutional requirement, it probably helps to strengthen the authority of the central government in the outlying provinces. It will be recalled that the seat of the United States Government was in three different places—Philadelphia, New York and Washington—in the early years of the republic, or prior to 1801.

THE RADIO INDUSTRY.

From the Chicago Tribune.

THE radio industry in America has increased 35 times in three years. There are 2,000,000 receiving sets in operation. There are 10,000,000 regular listeners in the radio manufacturers are 3000 in number. There are about 170 licensed broadcasting stations. California alone has 41 in operation. In one year radio sales amounted to $350,000,000. Our exports of it are worth $300,000 a month. The injection of a new $350,000,000 luxury tax American business in a period of three years is bound to rock the boat considerably. It means the diversion of funds from one amusement to another. It means the diversion of human attention and time from one way of having a good time to another. It means also a net addition to business and good times that may not be worth $350,000,000 a year, but certainly is worth much.

MUSIC

Bruckner's "Te Deum" Achieves Deep Effect at Massenchor's Concert.

By RICHARD L. STOKES.

IT befell the Austrian composer, Anton Bruckner, to write nine symphonies and languish in obscurity until he was an aged man. As a defense mechanism against this worldly disappointment, he built up in his ego a consuming piety. It is related that, shortly before his death at the age of 72, he was at last invited to conduct one of his symphonies with a Berlin orchestra, and that he astounded the case-hardened musicians by opening his first rehearsal with the words: "Let us pray!"—which he proceeded to do.

The most monumental trophy of Bruckner's devout illusions is his "Te Deum laudamus," composed in 1886 for mixed chorus, quartet and orchestra. With characteristic enterprise Hugo Ambush, director of the St. Louis Massenchor, unearthed this unfamiliar work and presented it last night at the Coliseum, for the first time. It is said, in this city.

The accessories were worthy of the titanic structure. Beneath his baton the director marshaled a choir of 400 and the entire Symphony Orchestra of 80 players. The quartet consisted of Mme. Elsa Alsen, a distinguished Wagnerian soprano; Arthur Middleton, one of the eminent American basses, and two St. Louis vocalists of repute, Mrs. Maude Covington and Clarence Bloemer. As background, there was an audience estimated at 5000.

Impression of Greatness.

The chief contribution made to the peace by the Massenchor was a certain glint of dynamics; if refinement and exaltation were lacking, it might be retorted that the sheer force of learning the notes correctly was a formidable exploit for a choir so large and nonprofessional. With its excessively intricate part-writing, its eight-voiced fugues, its brilliant chromatics and involved harmonies, the "Te Deum" would tax the utmost powers of even a virtuoso chorus. As it was, the work made a profound impression of greatness.

The program opened with an arrangement of Schubert's song, "Die Allmacht," for mixed chorus, soprano solo and orchestra, in which there was some hint of the grandeur of omnipotence. Mme. Alsen revealed one of those powerful voices trained to slice through the mass of the Wagnerian orchestra—high, pealing, edged. One could understand that this Scandinavian diva has been a favorite in Germany.

Two Other New Works.
There followed two German folk songs, rather elaborately harmonized for mixed chorus without accompaniment—"Er waren zwei Koenigskinder" and "Der Jaeger," the latter of which was repeated. A scene from Max Bruch's cantata, "Frischhof at His Father's Tomb," for female chorus, baritone solo and orchestra, proved somewhat ineffective, due in part to the fact that the tessitura of the solo role

MRS. GRACIE TO WED CHILEAN

She Is Widow of Last Man Saved When Titanic Sank.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 12.—Mrs. Constance Elise Schack Gracie, widow of Col. Archibald Gracie, who was the last man saved when the Titanic sank, has revealed that she had become engaged to H. Aguirre de Urbina, who, she said, was connected with the Chilean embassy at Washington. She said the wedding probably would take place here next week.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—H. Aguirre de Urbina, whose engagement to Mrs. Constance Elise Schack Gracie, widow of Col. Archibald Gracie, was announced in New York, is not connected with the Chilean embassy here. Embassy officials said they had heard of De Urbina and that he was believed to be now on his way to New York, but they knew of no recent appointment assigning him to the service in Washington.

lay above Mr. Middleton's natural range. Leopold Korming's "Die Macht der Musik," for male chorus, solo soprano and orchestra, had feeling and charm. Both this and the Bruch scene were also said to be new to this city.

For an extra, Mme. Alsen sang "Dich Theure Halle," from "Tannhauser," with unusual eloquence and exultant strength of voice. For a number by orchestra alone, Beethoven's "Egmont" overture was interpolated, and was played at so deliberate a tempo as to be virtually unrecognizable.

As is the invariable rule at the Massenchor concerts, the profits are to be devoted to charity. Exclusive of last night's proceeds, the organization has since 1921 raised $17,000 for various good causes, besides contributions to the musical life of the city, such as Bruckner's "Te Deum" and Beethoven's Choral Symphony, given in 1922.

Park. This cost is estimated at $277,155. On the basis of 60 per cent the railroad is seeking to evade the payment of $166,293. "Many other conditions are included in the railroad's demands. A program of procedure is offered, to which the city must agree now, under which the final separation of Wabash grades would take many years, but the proposed agreement kindly provides that if the city is in a hurry it may advance all the money and the railroad will pay back its share at the same rate as if the work had been done on the installment plan.

Effect of Proposal.
"Under the proposed agreement, after the railroad has charged to the city $73,000 of the railroad's share of the work at Delmar boulevard, and has divested itself of any part of the cost of the work in Forest Park, and has secured from the city fee simple titles to a lot of real estate it wants, it then proposes that the city pay 40 per cent of the cost of all the remainder of the work.

"And thus the two minor differences standing in the way of an agreement take the proportions of the outrageous demands recounted herein, presented to the city to be accepted before the time has expired within which an appeal to a higher court may be made, resulting in further weary and dangerous months of delay to be imposed on the public. Is it not about time for the united power of St. Louis to take a hand and not leave it to a few officials almost unaided to fight the battle alone?"

DRUG STORE BILL

KILLED IN HOUSE

Measure Restricting Ownership Fails of Engrossment After Being Denounced as Class Legislation.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—
The House last night administered an anesthetic to the drugstore bill
of Representative Davidson, of St.
Louis, which would have limited

the ownership and operation of drugstores to licensed pharmacists,
by defeating the measure, 41 to 36, when Davidson made an attempt to get the bill engrossed.
Representative E. N. Gossett of Kansas City administered the fatal
potion when he denounced the bill as "vicious class legislation of the most discriminatory sort." He charged the purpose of the bill was not simply to curb bootlegging in drug stores, as explained by druggists sponsoring the measure, but asserted it was designed "to create a monopoly for the druggists." Gossett declared the bill could not stand a constitutional test in the courts.

and Kansas City as a measure designed to put the cut-rate stores out of business. To lull the opposition of these interests he provided that it should not apply to persons not licensed pharmacists who now own drug stores. It also was amended to apply only to cities of more than 12,000 population, to eliminate rural opposition.

MAGIC CITY GROWS IN DESERT

Jews Turn Sandy Beach in Palestine Into Metropolis of 25,000.

Correspondence of the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.
LONDON, March 12.—A magic city in the desert built by Jews
was described here last night by Sir Alfred Mond on his return from a visit to Palestine and the Holy Land. The mushroom growth of Tel Aviv, near Jaffa, rivals Western America.

"In 1903 a small number of Jews from Jaffa," said Mond,
"bought land on a sandy desert beach at Tel Aviv and established a settlement there of 400 people.
There are now 25,000 inhabitants and 135 factories, half of which were set up last year. Entire businesses have been brought there from other countries. All the works are in full swing and all have entirely up-to-date machinery of the best type sent from all over the world. Power is supplied to factories and dwelling houses by the Palestine Electric Corporation,
so that Tel Aviv is a city without chimneys. There is nothing like it in the whole East."

LEVY ON NON-TAXABLE BONDS OVERRULED

Supreme Court Holds Equalization Board Is Without Authority in Case.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—Efforts of the St. Louis Board of Equalization to levy taxes against the St. Louis Union Trust Co. on non-taxable securities held by a subsidiary of the trust company, which would have been taxable if held as assets of the bank, were overruled by the Supreme Court en banc, in a decision handed down today. The court held the Board of Equalization was without authority to make the levy, and ordered the Board's action quashed. The case involved $2,033,055 in non-taxable securities such as Government and United States Land bank bonds, which were held by the St. Louis Realty and Security Co. The trust company controls the realty company through ownership of its stock. Under the law such securities are taxable when held as the property of a bank, but are tax-exempt when held as the property of a business corporation.

The City's Contentions.
The city charged that the trust company had transferred the securities to the realty company merely to evade taxes. It contended that shares of the trust company should be valued for taxation at their actual value as shown by all the property of the corporation.

Since the non-taxable securities held by the realty company, controlled by the trust company, were not otherwise taxed, the city contended their values should go into the list of values making up taxable assets of the trust company. The tax in dispute was approximately $50,000.

The trust company contended that shareholders in a business corporation like the realty company are not taxable on the value of their shares, and the only taxes that could be levied were such as could be properly levied against that corporation itself.

Reference to Double Taxation.
Judge White, who wrote the opinion, held that the efforts of the board of equalization to tax the trust company for the securities held by the realty company was an attempt at double taxation. Under the law, he stated, the tax could not be levied against the realty company, which held the securities, and an attempt therefore was being made to levy the tax against another corporation which held the shares of the realty company.

"When a corporation pays a tax on all its property, then to tax the shareholders on the value of their shares in the corporation would be double taxation," he wrote. "This is true whether an individual or a corporation owns the stock."

Evasion Charge Unproved.
Shares of stock in a corporation like the realty are non-taxable, he pointed out, because all the taxable property of the corporation is assessed against and paid on by the corporation. Nontaxable property held by the corporation should not more be assessed against its shareholders than against the corporation, he stated. To hold otherwise, he declared, would present the anomaly of shares of stocks being nontaxable and the corporation paying no tax on the property those shares represent, but those shares becoming taxable when held by another corporation, because the property which gives them value is nontaxable.

Referring to the charges of the city, that the trust company had transferred the securities to the realty company to evade taxation, Judge White stated there was no finding by the Board of Equalization that this had been done. He pointed out that the investments in the securities held by the realty company had been made over a period of years.

"Of course, we may infer that the trust company authorized the realty company to hold the non-taxable securities in order to avoid taxation of such securities if held by the trust company," Judge White wrote. "But is that a fraud? Is there any fraud, actual or constructive, in holding property which is nontaxable in a way to avoid taxation? There is no fraud in doing a lawful act. A man may change his residence to avoid taxation; he may change the form of his property by putting his money in nontaxable securities, or in the form of property which would be taxed less and is not guilty of fraud. One cannot be guilty of fraud by doing what he has a right to do."

"Government, State and municipal bonds and the like are made nontaxable in order to save to the people who must pay them the payment of more taxes," Judge White continued. "If they were taxed the increased interest which they would bear would have to be paid by higher taxes. This without any corresponding revenue from the taxation of such securities. It is a matter of common knowledge that taxable securities, although bearing a higher rate of interest, are the most artful tax dodgers known to the collector."

All the other Judges concurred in the opinion by Judge White.

RAILWAY CRISIS OVER, DIRECTOR DAVIS SAYS

Declares Dawn of a New Day for Public Carriers Has Arrived.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, March 12.—The railroads of the country now have the opportunity to rise or fall on their own record. James C. Davis, Director General of Railroads, declared last night in an address before the American Railway Engineering Association on "The Dawn of a New Day for Railroad Transportation."

Davis said the railways had suffered seriously from the decline in net earnings that occurred under Government operation because expenses increased more than rates and total earnings, but that "the carriers have found some compensations not measured in the money they received from the Government for the use of their property."

"It was," he said, "the crises in which the carriers found themselves that made the strong appeal to Congress to enact the transportation act," which he declared to be the most constructive piece of railway legislation ever passed.

"The railroad management of this country had a right to feel pride and satisfaction in the performance of the last five years," he said. "The confidence of the public and the ability of the railroads to carry on has been restored and the specter of Government ownership has in effect been banished. This remarkable result has been accomplished with substantial reductions not only in the rates and charges, but in the number of employees engaged in operation. Publicity on the details of income, outgo and the realization that efficient service can only be had when full compensation for such service is received will result in Legislatures and Congress treating the vital question of transportation as an economic rather than a political problem."

DEATHS OF SEVERAL OSAGE INDIANS UNDER INQUIRY

Officers Expect Arrest of Several Oklahoma Ranchers Within Twenty-Four Hours.

By the Associated Press. PAWBUKA, Okla., March 12.—With subpoenas issued for a dozen persons to appear before a court of inquiry today to offer testimony in connection with the death of several Osage Indians and a white lawyer in the fall and summer of 1922, officers said they expected arrests of several prominent ranchers within 24 hours.

A half-dozen conferences were held here yesterday by J. Berry King, Assistant State's Attorney-General, who, with the assistance of Eustice Smith, a representative of the Federal Department of Justice, is conducting the investigation.

Several deaths of wealthy Osage Indians in 1922, led officers to believe that a gang was responsible for the murders. Anna Brown, said to be a wealthy Indian girl, was found shot to death in the spring of 1922. A short time later Henry Roan, another Indian, said to be related to Anna Brown, was killed. Later the home of W. E. Smith, Osage Indian, was dynamited and Smith, his wife and a maid were killed. Smith was also said to be a relative of Anna Brown. A doctor living near Smith was shot and killed shortly after the dynamiting.

Charles Whitehorse and an Indian girl were slain later and an attorney, W. W. Vaughn, was killed in a mysterious fall from the back of a train while en route to Pawhuska on business in connection with an Osage Indian estate.

Officials connected with the investigation would not comment yesterday on reports that "Blackie" Thompson, serving a life term in the State prison, had confessed to dynamiting the Smith home.

WIDOW, 63, FREED OF CHARGE OF TRYING TO POISON HUSBAND

Jury at Marble Hill, Mo., Deliberates 5 Hours in Case of Mrs. Barbara Bollinger.
CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., March 12.—Mrs. Barbara Bollinger, a widow, 63 years old, is free today following her trial at Marble Hill, west of here, on a charge of attempting to administer poison to her late husband, William Bollinger, shortly before his death last September. On the first ballot the jury stood nine to three for acquittal and after five hours of deliberation arrived at a verdict.

Bollinger, a retired farmer, 73 years old, left an estate valued at about $70,000 and State witnesses attempted to show that Mrs. Bollinger attempted to do away with him before he could sign a will he had tentatively drawn up. A son and daughter swore that she gave Bollinger, already on his sick bed, a drink purporting to be lemonade but which the invalid rejected after sipping it with an oath and an exclamation that "It is burning me up." Immediately white spots appeared on Bollinger's mouth and tongue. Other relatives told of jealousy on the part of the sons and daughters and of their opposition to the widow sharing in the estate equally with the children. These witnesses denied that Bollinger's mouth had been blistered and two physicians testified that if white spots had been seen they might have been caused by a disordered stomach.

GIRL ESCAPES FROM PEORIA HOSPITAL WITH INFANT SON

PEORIA, Ill., March 12.—Ruth Reed, 23-year-old, whose sullen silence concerning herself prevented County authorities from learning anything about her past, fled out a second-story window of the County Hospital at Maxwell Tuesday night, taking with her her year-old son, Lyle. A year ago she was taken ill in a downtown store. She was removed to a hospital and her child was born March 24. She said she came from Springfield, Mass., and was married but she had only a night gown, pair of slippers, and an apron with her and only 4 cents in her pocketbook. She had been a housemaid, she said, but her hands were soft and well manicured.

ANIMALS AND BIRDS FOUND HIGH UP ON MT. EVEREST

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, March 12.—The canibal spiders that live near the top of Mount Everest exist at higher altitudes than any other animals known to man. They were described recently to the Royal Geographical Society by Maj. R. W. G. Hingston, naturalist of the Mount Everest expedition of 1924.

These spiders live in islands of broken rock surrounded by snow and ice, and for food they eat one another. Traces of this permanent animal existence were found far above the Himalayan snow line, and some 4000 feet above the last vegetable growth, Maj. Hingston explained.

Wild sheep and mountain hares climb up the ranges, even to the barren slopes at 17,000 feet.

"There were bees, moths and even butterflies at 21,000 feet," he said, "and cloughs, a kind of crow, at the immense height of 27,000 feet."

Some birds formed communities with mammals. Many little birds associated with mouse hares, and there was perfect confidence and harmony among them. At greater heights, on the almost barren mountains, was an association of cloughs and wild sheep. The clough sits on the sheep's back, and searches for insects in the animal's hair.

NEIGHBOR—What Do You Say?
MILLER FOR MAYOR

PATRONS INDORSE FIVE MEN FOR THE SCHOOL BOARD

Emil J. Barth, John S. Marsalek, H. P. Schroeder, R. H. Ballman and Myrt A. Rollins the Selections.

In spite of the overshadowing effect of the campaign for majority nominations, the campaign for five of the 12 places on the Board of Education is getting under way. It was given impetus by the endorsement of candidates voted at Central High School last night by the Public School Patrons' Alliance. The Committee of Three Thousand, in which leaders in various walks of life and civic interests are interested, also will make endorsements.

School Board candidates are nominated by petition of 1000 voters, and will be voted on at the election of April 7. The ballot for these positions, which carry no salary, is nonpartisan. Formerly the board was divided equally between the Republicans and Democrats. The seven members whose terms are not expiring are Republicans. Terms of Mrs. Elias Michael, Republican, and John C. Tobin, president of the board; Richard Murphy and Rhodes E. Cave, Democrats, are expiring. All but Cave are seeking re-election. There is a two-year, unexpired term vacated by the appointment of H. A. Rosekoff to the Circuit bench.

Those endorsed by the Patrons Alliance last night were: Emil J. Barth, 33 years old, of 3542 Bamberger avenue, assistant superintendent of the Prudential Insurance Co.; president of Gallaudet School Patrons' Association, in which capacity he has been active in behalf of the deaf children educated there; a Republican.

John S. Marsalek, 37, of 4023 Humphrey street, member of law firm of Marsalek, Stahlhut & Godfrey; chairman of Legislative Committee of Patrons' Alliance; independent in politics.

Henry P. Schroeder, 49, of 4560 Moffitt avenue, president of Table Queen Products Co.; active in Benton School affairs and a brother of Joseph C. Schroeder, Republican politician, who is treasurer of the alliance; a Republican.

Robert H. Ballman, 49, of 5451 Queens avenue, cashier of Bremen Bank; active in Harrison School and Yeatman High affairs for 20 years as an alliance member; independent in politics.

Myrt A. Rollins (short term), 39, of 5934 North Market street, an attorney; serving his second term as general president of the alliance; a Republican.

The alliance had sent questionnaires to 37 possible candidates, but the meeting last night voted not to have the replies read. Rollins afterwards declined to make public replies of those who were not endorsed. Those who were endorsed all replied that in general they favored open meetings of the school board, that they would visit each school at least once a year, and that they would make personal investigation of important matters as far as possible.

The alliance has about 30,000 members, it is said, in 71 schools. Delegations, supposed to number 10 each, but some of them incomplete, from 88 schools, attended the meeting. The unit rule controlled the delegation votes for endorsement. Some of those present were comparing some aspects of the gathering, which ended quite turbulently, with the last Democratic national convention.

A committee, which was to have reported on the candidates, held a hasty discussion before the meeting was called to order and decided to make no report. It was announced that nine of the list of 37 candidates had withdrawn, and names of 23 who had replied to the questionnaires were read. Eventually the Gardenville School delegation refused to vote because the answers were withheld.

By a heavy vote it was decided to read the names of the 17 known to be members of the alliance. The Sodian High delegation interpreted this as meaning nonmembers would not be supported; refused to vote, and, led by James G. McConkey, walked out.

On the first ballot seven candidates received no votes and 29 received from 20 to 330 votes each. The only one having more than the necessary majority of 350 was Barth, with 350. The 19 lowest were dropped. On the second ballot Schroeder was endorsed, with a scant 250 votes, and Marsalek, with 410.

The third ballot was between Ballman and Mr. Michael and evoked many noisy demonstrations by partisans of the two. Mrs. Michael was favored by many women delegates. The result was: Ballman, 229; Mrs. Michael, 230. President Rollins ruled that Ballman had not received a sufficient majority, but the meeting rejected his ruling after loud and vigorous debate. Further noisy jockeying made the endorsement of Ballman unanimous.

Rollins was endorsed for the short term by acclamation.

There had been some discussion previous to the meeting as to whether there had been a caucus to pick the favored candidates. Rollins had been quoted as saying he thought four certain candidates would be endorsed, but only one of these received the alliance approval. The way the votes were spread seemed to indicate the action was spontaneous. Whenever the names of Tobin and Murphy, board members seeking re-election, were mentioned at the meeting there were boos, laughs and hisses. Officers explained afterwards that the alliance did not like to work with these members, but appeared to be at a loss to state a definite reason. Delegates questioned said they did not understand the opposition.

"HIGHER CARFARE OR TAXES MUST BE CUT"
Wells Cites $1,000,000 Drop in Revenue Last Year; Action Necessary.

Either the street car fare must be increased or taxes must be lowered if the United Railways is to be operated as a going concern, Rolla Wells, receiver, asserts in the current issue of the United Railways Bulletin, a company publication.

The company's gross revenue for 1924 showed a decrease of $1,002,000 from the revenue of 1923, Receiver Wells declared. His conclusion was that this loss of business means that car riders must meet the deficit by paying more fares or by interesting themselves in seeing that the company is not forced to pay high taxes. In addition to paying high taxes, Wells declared, the company is meeting destructive competition from the motor-buses and private automobiles, and is suffering heavily from the necessity of paying big damage claims imposed by local juries.

Blames Public.
"Are the people trying to help you and are they trying to keep down the cost of transportation?" Wells recently asked an audience of employees. "There are times when I feel that the answer to the question is 'No'."

"What have the people done in recent years to make possible an adequate transportation system in this city? They have imposed the franchise tax and it is wholly wrong. We have the mill tax and it, too, is wholly wrong."

"All of this adds to the cost of operation of the street railway property and it comes finally from the pockets of the patrons. But does the public interest itself in the property to the extent of requiring a fair tax on the railway property? Has it done anything to do away with the operations of ambulance chasing lawyers? The answer again is 'No'."

Hurt by Bus Competition.
"The competition of automobiles and motor-buses last year decreased the gross revenue $1,002,000 from the previous year. And yet in 1924 the amount paid out in wages to the company's employees decreased only in the total sum of $20,000."

Receiver Wells assured the employees who were listening to him that there would be no wage cuts except as a last resort.

"But," he concluded, "unless the public comes to our aid and relieves us of some of these burdens the public will have to pay more per car ride."

MAN AND WOMAN JAILED IN INVESTIGATION INTO MURDER
Pair Held at Minneapolis Sought for Death of 87-Year-Old Civil War Veteran.

By the Associated Press. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 12.—C. E. Carlson of Marshalltown, Ia., and Edna Carpenter of Lady-smith, Wis., are in jail here today without charge in connection with the death of Michael Featherstone, 87-year-old Civil War Veteran of Marshalltown, who was beaten to death last November.

The couple was arrested at the instigation of J. W. Cooper of Marshalltown, who said he represented Roy L. Bell, County Attorney of Marshall County, Iowa. A warrant will be brought here by a detective from Marshalltown, police said.

Featherstone was an inmate of the old soldiers' home at Marshalltown. Nov. 4, a couple appeared at the home and invited him to take an automobile ride. Three days later his body was found in a ditch, wrapped in an old blanket. His skull had been crushed.

Featherstone habitually carried considerable money in his pockets, officials of the home said, some times as much as $800. When his body was found his pockets were empty.

GRAND JURY INVESTIGATES DEATH OF NEGRO IN FLORIDA
One of Five Men Held as Suspects Awaits Retrial on Old Murder Charge.

By the Associated Press. CROSS CITY, Fla., March 12.—Investigation of the alleged complicity of Thomas W. Higginbotham, John H. Windom, E. G. Priest, W. G. McKane and Charles Hart in the death of Lewis Barker, a negro, began here today with the convening of a special term of Circuit Court. Higginbotham is under $20,000 bond for appearance in court for a second trial under charges of murder as a result of the death of Martin Tabert, a North Dakotan, who died after a flogging alleged to have been administered by Higginbotham in a Florida lumber camp. At the first trial Higginbotham was convicted of second degree murder and sentenced to 20 years in the state prison.

Aldermen and Judge in Row.
By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, March 12.—The City Council yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution demanding that Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal Court inquire into the sanity of Judge Henry M. Walker of the Municipal Court. Alderman Stanley Adamkewicz introduced the resolution, without precedent in the Council's history, after he had been expelled from Judge Walker's courtroom by a bailiff. He said he was informed by the Judge that the court had "no use for bums and Aldermen."

WIRES SEVERED IN ABSENCE OF FAMILY FROM HOME
The family of Frank X. Hemenz, attorney, living at 4041 Flora place, is mystified by the action of someone who Monday night climbed a telephone pole in the rear of the home and cut the telephone and electric wires serving the house, while the family was absent. When they came home they found a rear window broken and the house in darkness.

There was no indication of anyone having been in the house and nothing was stolen. The police were asked yesterday to investigate.

The law of averages is immutable. Dental statistics prove that four out of every five over 40—and thousands younger, too—are marred by Pyorrhea. Do you want to escape?

It takes healthy gums to keep healthy teeth

If you neglect your gums—let them get in a "run-down" condition—you may soon be numbered among Pyorrhea's countless victims.

Bleeding gums are Nature's first warning. Then the gums begin to recede, lose that rich, healthy-pink color. Poisons collect in pus pockets and often drain through the entire system, causing indigestion, anemia, rheumatism and other serious diseases of mid-life. In the final stages the teeth loosen and fall out.

Take no chances—use Forhan's
If used in time and used consistently, Forhan's will prevent Pyorrhea, or check its progress—something ordinary tooth pastes are powerless to do. It contains just the right proportion of Forhan's Astringent (as used by the dental profession in the treatment of Pyorrhea). It is safe, efficient and pleasant tasting. Even if you don't care to discontinue your favorite dentifrice, at least start using Forhan's once a day.

Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

320 CITIES IN U. S. NOW HAVE ZONING SYSTEMS

62 Adopted Them Last Year,
Department of Commerce Reports.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 12.—
There are now 320 cities in the United States which have demarked
the area within their boundaries
into zones, setting territory apart
for exclusive use as business, residence, industrial or transportation
property, the Department of Commerce reported today in a summary of conditions affecting the proposal.

The most marked progress was made in this form of city planning during 1924, when 62 municipalities adopted the system, fitting the zones to the particular requirements of their localities.

"In adopting zoning ordinances,"
the department's statement said,
"these cities, towns and villages
have sought to protect home owners, and other land owners, in the reasonable use of their property."
New Jersey Leads.

"Zoning seeks to regulate the use to which buildings may be put,
the area of the lot which they may cover, and their height in different sections of the city, that the land in each district may be used for the purposes to which it is best suited."

"New Jersey still leads in the number of zoned municipalities,
having 72; New York has 56; California, 38; Illinois, 36; Massachusetts, 24; Ohio, 21; Wisconsin, 14;
Michigan, 9; Indiana, 5; Kansas, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Virginia, 4 each; Florida, Minnesota, Oklahoma and Washington, 2 each, and Alabama,
Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut,
Delaware, District of Columbia, Georgia, Iowa, Maryland, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee and Utah, 1 each."

Interest Increased.
"An increased interest is being shown by the people of the United States in the enactment of zoning legislation to control the use,
height and area of buildings in various districts in their communities, and in consequence zoning laws have been enacted or are being considered by nearly every State in the Union."

"The Legislatures of 24 states met during 1925. Most of them are now in session and zoning legislation is receiving more than passing attention due to the widespread interest in the subject shown by the public at large."

Town Club to Hear About "Injuns." Mrs. Walter McNab Miller, chairman of the Department of Public Welfare of the General Federation of Clubs, will speak on "Injuns"
before the Town Club at 7:30 p.
m. tomorrow in the club auditorium. There will be an exhibit of Indian records will be played, and Mrs. Miller will show specimens of Indian pottery and jewelry made in New Mexico.

Over his coffee Admiral Dewey rose to speak

NO other banquet at the old Maxwell House in Nashville ever equaled that given in 1900 for the great hero of our war with Spain. In this historic hotel the South could most fittingly do honor to Admiral Dewey. For years the Maxwell House had been celebrated throughout all Dixie for its delicious food—and above all for its coffee. It was this special blend of coffee, wonderfully rich-bodied and mellow,
that was served to the Admiral on that memorable evening long ago. And it is this blend that critical families everywhere have heard of and secured for their own tables.
Today, blended and roasted in just the same way, it is supplied to them in sealed tins. Its rich flavor and aroma are now offered to you. Ask your grocer today for one

THREE ST. LOUIS BOXERS REACH SEMIFINALS OF NATIONAL TOURNEY

Horner Winner In Two Bouts; Power Defeated

Welterweight Star Loses on Points at Baltimore—Sanson Draws a Bye.

ALFANO'S FOE QUILTS

Business Men's A. C. Representative Punishes Georgetown University Man.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 12.—Three of the four St. Louis boxers who came here in search of National Junior A. A. U. championships, have survived to the semifinals in their respective classes.

Frank G. Power, welterweight, was the only one of the four whose title aspirations were ruined, for he dropped a decision on points in his first round match with Joe Littman of the New York Y. M. H. A.

Jack Horner, lightweight, won his first bout with a knockout in the second round and he outpointed his opponent in his second match.

Ray Alfano, featherweight, scored a technical knockout in the third round in the only bout in which he participated.

Mike Sansone, flyweight, drew a bye in the first round and will participate in the semifinals in his division tonight.

Allen Linlad of Boston won the national junior heavyweight championship.

Linlad, who sported the silks of the New England Association of the A. A. U., ascended the ladder of title fame at the expense of the Sol Levensky, former Naval Academy star now with the Marines. Levensky attempted to put his rival away early but in making the effort spent the best portion of his power. Linlad won decisively.

St. Louis team of fighters, who made the longest trip of any mittmen here in their search for national honors, made a great hit with the fans. Their aggressive, clean style of fighting and deportment in the ring brought forth much favorable comment and the crowd quickly took a liking to them. A large following developed.

Horner now a favorite. Horner, by his double victory in the lightweight class, has become one of the favorites to win the title. Horner's first victim was Charles E. R. Buc, a Marine from Quantico. After being floored for a count of eight in the first round, Buc came back in the second to make a last valiant attempt to win the ground he lost. Instead of accomplishing his mission, he ran into a right cross which Horner whipped across to his jaw and the bout was over.

Jack's second mill, the one that put him in the semifinals, was a tough one. His opponent was James McKnight, of Boston. The first round was even. The Hub City lad rallied in the second stanza and was holding an edge when Horner clipped him. McKnight dropped to the canvas but not for good. He came back for more punishment and kept the St. Louis man busy.

Horner was easily the better man and was awarded the verdict of the judges.

Horner's opponent in the semifinals will be either James Connolly, Boston; Tom Low, New York; or Murray Israel, Richmond Hill, N. Y. Connolly regarded as Horner's most dangerous rival.

Alfano handed Richard F. Ward of Georgetown University a merciless beating in which Sansone came back for more punishment and kept the St. Louis man busy.

Basketball Title Sure to Remain In the Midwest

Three Missouri Teams Remain in Running—K. C. A. C. Meets Lombard Tonight.

KANSAS CITY, March 12.—Another triumph for midwestern basketball has been registered at the National A. A. U. tournament in progress here.

Out of the 32 teams entered from coast to coast there remained in the running today only eight squads—all from the mid west.

The tournament is following the trend of the four previous tournaments held here, all of which returned victors from the central states. Three of these championship teams went to Kansas City teams while Butler College of Indianapolis won last year.

District Champions Defeated. Teams from distant points started dropping out early this year. The Crescent A. C. of Brooklyn, metropolitan champions, who brought a fine reputation from the East, losing in the first round, as did the Hollywood A. C. from California, and the Tokyo Teas of New Orleans.

The second round eliminated the Dixie Independents of Hartford, Conn., and two San Francisco squads, the Olympic Club team and the Young Men's Institute.

With three teams, Missouri leads in the number of survivors. However, all are in the lower bracket, eliminating the possibility of the final being an all-Missouri affair.

Illinois is more fortunate, with two survivors, having St. Phillips A. C. of Chicago in the upper bracket and Lombard College of Galesburg in the lower bracket.

No games were scheduled this afternoon. Teams which will fight tonight for places in the semifinals follow:

Southern Surety, Des Moines, vs. Moons, Lafayette, Ind.

Kansas City A. C. vs. Lombard College, Galesburg, Ill.

Hilliards, St. Joseph, Mo., vs. Schooleys, Kansas City.

St. Phillips A. C., Chicago, vs. Washburn College, Topeka.

Rickey to Cut Ten Men From Reserve List

Cardinal Leader, However, to Wait Until Squad Returns to St. Louis.

STOCKTON, Cal., March 12.—With the Cardinals now in their third week of training, Manager Branch Rickey will soon begin to swing the official ax, but it is not expected that the heads of any of the older players will fall until several weeks later.

The beheading will affect some of the California semi-professionals who have been getting free room and board at the expense of the St. Louis club. A few of these boys are expected to drop unconditional releases, but there is a merry scramble on for the services of some of the youngsters between Fred Hunter, who will manage the Quincey (Three I League) club, and Carl "Honus" Mitze, who will direct the destiny of the Fort Smith (Western Association) club this year.

Cardinal Farms. Both of these clubs are Cardinal "farms" and Mitze and Hunter are expected to pick out the wheat from the chaff. Of the 71 persons in the St. Louis party, 45 are labeled as ballplayers, the others being club officials, coaches, newspaper men and wives. Rickey's reserve list numbers only 35 players, and his squad includes 10 players who have not reported to the club, and "Tubby" Clemens, who has announced his retirement from the game.

That means that Rickey must knock off 19 of these players, but it is not necessary for him to cut down until June 15, which will give him ample time to pick out the players with whom he will strive for the National League pennant.

For that reason, every man on the Cardinals' reserve list is expected to survive the training trip, but once the club reaches St. Louis, there probably will be some anxious boys in the party, because some of the players are sure to draw their pay checks from St. Louis and Houston instead of the St. Louis club.

The training seasons for the Quincey and Fort Smith clubs begin about March 25, so Hunter and Mitze will likely be leaving here a week before with three or four players apiece, selected from the rookies now wearing the uniforms of the Cardinal club.

Fourteen pitchers are now in the Cardinals' reserve list. It is expected that the Cardinals' pitcher, Robert D. Otto, who has been asked by Gov. Baker to interpret the State law on boxing, until this official opinion is received the City Commission will make no decision regarding the reopening of the game here.

Tough's bill at the Liberty Theatre includes four three-round exhibitions with Billy Johnson, "Red" Roland, Eddie Reith and George Butch among the principals. Sixteen-ounce gloves are used and no decision given.

Blades is More Hopeful. Ray Blades, who feared he might be through for all time as a major leaguer, because of a lame arm, reports that the Sacramento specialist, who is treating him, apparently is doing much good for the arm. He said he tried out his arm yesterday and the throw, although having much force to it, did not pain his shoulder.

A timely hit by Southern Arthur Reinhardt, the Syracuse pitcher, enabled the Cardinals to beat the Sacramento club in the ninth inning yesterday, 5-4. The same teams will play at Sacramento today.

BOMB FOR JURY FOREMAN

Florist Shop of Chicagoan on Corner's McClintock Panel Damaged.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 12.—Laurent E. Clody, foreman of the coroner's jury investigating the death of William Nelson McClintock, "millionaire orphan," it became known today, was the object yesterday of a bomb attack which tore out the front of his florist shop. He was at his home at the time. The explosion occurred, he said, after a man had called at the shop and a telephone call had been received at his home making inquiries regarding his connection with the store and the jury. He said he had no differences with employees nor could attribute the attack to an enemy.

During the inquest, which recently was continued for 20 days, Clody presented a statement by an attorney for William D. Shepherd, Foster father and chief heir of McClintock, that the jury must think the presiding Deputy Coroner was prejudiced in favor of Judge Harry Olson, instigator of the investigation.

What Is Mohair-Frieze?

Mohair-Frieze is a loop thread or uncut mohair. It is a very durable and long-wearing fabric, and we feel safe in stating it is almost indestructible. Mohair-Frieze has been the standard upholstery for Pullman Sleeping and Parlor cars for over 60 years. Government tests show that this fabric has 2½ times the strength of wool. It costs about 50 per cent more than the regular cut mohair.

No Suite Could Be Better Constructed

All wearable parts of each piece will be covered in your choice of five patterns of Mohair-Frieze, one side of reversible seat cushions covered in your selection of beautiful silk brocades, silk damasks or hand-blocked mohairs. ## "The Able Mighlins" by MARGARET WILSON

INSTALLMENT SIX

THE corn was husked. The fields were over. Wully had sold for $240 in '64, wheat had paid for now. He owned 300 acres of it a bit farther west, where a bushel of wheat still would be a faithful soil. His little pines had grown steadily, and now that the grasses and weeds were frosted, was a lot of little switches ready to be cut for that shadow of evil that clouded their lives. Every day Wully's mind dwelt fruitfully upon the problem. He observed, still shifted under their tender lids.

And what was he to do when he must go to the timber? He had caught almost his winter's supply of wood. When he must leave early in the morning, and return at night, he couldn't leave her alone. He had remarked to one neighbor that he wanted some one to bring his wood home for him. He found no man willing to do the work. Christie would have to take the baby and go to her father's house. She didn't want to do that. Either Wully would have to take her back and forth to her house that they really shared—and that was a difficult thing under the circumstances—or she would have to stay away from home together, and then Wully would come home to a cold house and no food ready. They dreaded those days.

He finished the corn on Wednesday, and on Thursday morning he had to go to town to have a great lark. The corn was to be taken to the mill the first time. He had a wagon.

RICE-CHEESE CROQUETTES.
One-half cup rice. One cup water. One cup cheese. One egg. One-half cup cracker crumbs. Heat the water in a pan directly over the fire until it is boiling vigorously. Add the rice and salt slowly enough that the water doesn't stop boiling. Cook directly over the flame five minutes, stirring constantly so that it doesn't stick. Then remove from stove, add the cheese and pour out in a square dish. Use cut in slices. When ready, dip in cracker crumbs, then in slightly beaten egg, and again in cracker crumbs. Brown on both sides in hot oil. Serve immediately.

Children's Bedtime Story By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

The Plungers Are Respected

PLUNGER the Osprey and Mrs. Plunger are thought much of by their neighbors. They are respected and looked up to, and at all times are welcome. No one has other than good words for them. When the little people of the Old Orchard and the Green Meadows and the Green Forest found that Plunger and Mrs. Plunger were going to build a new home not far from Farmer Brown's there was great rejoicing.

"We won't see much of Black Pussy in the Old Orchard as long as he is about"

"Once upon a time I wouldn't have believed that I ever would have a good word to say for a single member of the Hawk family," said Welcome Robin. "That was before I knew Plunger and Mrs. Plunger. They are fine people. With them about I am not worried at all of unexpected visits from other members of the Hawk family. They all know better than to come around where Plunger and Mrs. Plunger are nesting."

"Yes," piped up Kitty the Catbird, "the Hawks will keep away, and there are others who will keep away. Those eyes of Plunger's are wonderful. We won't see much of Black Pussy in the old Orchard as long as he is about. And the same is true of Mrs. Plunger. Have you ever noticed that even Farmer Brown's biddies pay no attention to Plunger and Mrs. Plunger, while they run as fast as their legs will take them when another member of the Hawk family appears in sight? I have been told, though I can't say that I quite believe it, that Creaker the Grackle and Mrs. Grackle have even built their nest among the sticks of Plunger's big nest and have raised a family there."

"It is true, quite true," broke in a creaking voice. It was the voice of Creaker himself, who had happened to come along just in time to overhear Kitty the Catbird. "Mrs. Creaker and I have done that more than once. We would do it again this year, only the new nest of the Plungers is not big enough. Perhaps another year, when they have enlarged it, there will be room for us."

Just then there was a shrill whistle from Mrs. Plunger, at once answered by Plunger himself. Mrs. Plunger was on her nest. She had three precious eggs she could not leave. But she was none the less watchful, and she had been the first to see a strange cat. So she had given the alarm. At once Plunger had darted down toward that cat, whistling shrilly. With a bound the strange cat started away as fast as her legs could take her. Plunger followed her far enough to see that she was not likely to return. Then he returned

HOME-MAKING HELPS

"Everything About the House Helps to Make the Home"

By WANDA BARTON

Sanitary Care of Kitchen Utensils Aids Health

WITH the many new and approved cleaning agents on the market, and generally distributed throughout the country in all cities, there is no excuse for untidy kitchen equipment. Kitchen cutlery of the stainless steel variety does not retain odors, or become stained by any ordinary use, and if carefully washed and dried retains its brightness indefinitely. If ordinary steel knives are carefully cleaned with steel wool, or with old-fashioned Bristol brick and washed in good soapy water, they rarely retain odors. All aluminum utensils should be cleaned with steel wool, the soapy kind, or the powder that comes for the purpose, rinsed well in hot water and dried. Enamel ware should be cleaned in the same way as the aluminum. Tin ware needs the same treatment, but it must be carefully dried over a warm stove before putting it away to save the corners and seams from rusting. When it comes to steel frying pans they should be very carefully washed. After using, set them in the sink, filled with hot water and a little of the powder that dissolves grease. Then throw out the water, clean with wire wool, or the rough soap made for the purpose. Wash thoroughly inside and out with hot soapy water and dry thoroughly. The nickel utensils are cleaned with wire wool and the same powder that comes to clean aluminum. Copper utensils are usually metal lined and are cleaned inside with the same methods as the other wares and outside they may be quickly brightened by mixing two tablespoonfuls of flour with a teaspoonful of salt and vinegar powder to make a paste. Rub all over the copper with a soft cloth, then rinse off with hot water and dry with a soft cloth. Chopping bowl and hatchknife bowls should be allowed to stand with hot water and the vegetable powder for a few minutes after using; then washed in warm soapy water and scrubbed with a little stiff brush, rinsed well, then dried before putting them away. All bread, cake and molding boards should be well scrubbed with sandy soap and the stiff little brushes, rinsed well and dried carefully.

The bill to grant women the vote at the age of 21, instead of the present age of 20, was killed in the British House of Commons.

Glory Be— Another Age-Old Mystery Is Gone! We bore a hole in Alaska walls so you may "SEE THE CORK THAT SAVES THE ICE"

Buying Refrigerators is no longer a game of "blind man's buff," if you buy an Alaska. You have no feeling of doubt about what insulation is used in this famous food protector.

The old way was to tell you about the inside construction of refrigerator walls. The Alaska way is to show you.

This is done through the patented Cork-Wall Window—an exclusive Alaska feature, built into every genuine Alaska. You look into it as into an X-Ray machine. Through the lens you see with your own eyes "The Cork That Saves the Ice." No amount of talk, no amount of writing, is such a convincing guaranty as this. You know because you see.

Thousands and thousands of women are buying Alaskas. Not only because they appreciate the manufacturer's attempt to make everything plain, but also because the Alaska is such a beautiful refrigerator—so finely made and with so many desirable features.

Ask your Alaska dealer to show you and explain the famous Cork Wall Window—also the improved full-ice-sweep circulation; seamless porcelain or enamel interiors; seal-tight doors and air-tight drain.

There are sizes for every need and prices for every purse.

The Man on the

THE REVUE

I SEE where old John D. (himself), I mean the one with all the pelt,

Put old man Bogy on the shelf
Like some young husky laddie.
A par 3 helped to boost his score,
Which, followed by a birdie 4,
That smile that won't come off,
He wore.

And nearly tipped his caddie.

The candidates who, like Coue,
Are getting better every day,
Are telling us the proper way
To run this town of ours.
Each day they all attend a lunch
And at each other take a punch
And do not say it with a bunch
Of rare, exotic flowers.

But, while they cut each other's throats
And try to get each other's goats, Tomorrow night the count of votes

Will show who's been selected.
But, then the fight has just begun.

The final heat must still be run
And after all is said and done
He may not be elected.

Ladd,

And making their dear teacher

ROSS TO TELL OF ANOTHER $75,000
THEFT FROM NIGHT AND DAY BANK

Man He Will Name Not Heretofore Mentioned in Connection With Looting of Liquidation Funds.

SUBPENAED BY THE
FARRIS COMMITTEE.

Other Witnesses to Reveal How Bank's Funds Were Loaned to a Queerly Manipulated Trust Co.

By CURTIS A. BETTS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 12.—
The Farris Investigating Committee of the State Senate expects, at a resumed hearing tomorrow, testimony of a startling character
adding a new chapter to the story of the double, or, perhaps, triple looting of the Night and Day Bank.
Donald W. Ross of Kansas City former Deputy Finance Commissioner, who is under two five-year sentences to the penitentiary on charges that he personally used $100,000 of the bank's funds while officially was in his charge, has been summoned to repeat under oath statements he has made to friends.

The committee expects Ross will testify that $75,000 was stolen from the bank in March, 1932, at a time when he was in Kansas City
on his official business, and that he will name as responsible a man who has not hitherto been mentioned in connection with any of the many irregularities of the bank and its liquidation.

Other Testimony Expected.

Testimony of other witnesses will be to the effect that funds of the Night and Day Bank have been deposited in other banks on condition that similar sums be loaned to a specified individual, particularly the Citizens' Trust Co., of Gorin, Boonville, Mo., to which Jerome
B. McClellan, a director, an interested, owed $120,000 when the trust company failed last July.

In addition, there will be testimony of a queerly manipulated transaction of the Citizens' Trust Co., by which notes of questionable value were accepted at their face for deposit as cash, and cerificates of deposit issued for them,
the certificates then hawked about for sale at from 70 to 80 cents on the dollar.

The attention of the committee was directed to the matters to be inquired into tomorrow by the Post-Dispatch after information had been received by it as to the probable testimony. Subpenas were issued for the witnesses Monday and process servers have been busy all week rounding them up.

To Tell of $75,000 Shortage.
It is the expectation of the committee that Ross will testify that after he returned to the Night and Day Bank about April 1, 1932, he discovered a shortage of $75,000
in the liquidation accounts; that there was that amount less than there had been a month before when he had been detached from service at the closed bank and sent to Kansas City to examine a large trust company.

Ross' story as told by him to friends is that the records of the liquidation were altered to conceal the alleged shortage. These records have been ordered produced before the committee and will be examined at the hearing tomorrow.
There will be other details of the story dealing with the alleged skimming of fees in connection with the liquidation.

Doctor Also to Be Heard.

Next in interest to the testimony of Ross will be that of Dr.
Charles G. Safford of Kansas City.
He participated in a deal by which $150,000 of certificates of deposit were loaned to the Citizens' Trust Co. of Gorin in exchange for a similar amount of notes, and the certificates put out for sale.

Dr. Safford has been questioned about the transaction. His statement, which he is expected to repeat to the committee, is that Mc-Clellan asked him to purchase at discount of 20 or 25 per cent $150,000 in certificates of deposit issued by the trust company at Gorin, and the Canton Trust Co., generally known as "Millspaugh's bank," from the Finance Commissioner, formerly connected with it,
a bank in Chillicothe.
Dr. Safford did not care to han-
